TWO ARE INJURED IN SHIP EXPLOSION

Bayonne, N. J., February 23.—(United News.)—Nine members of the crew leaped into the icy waters of the Kill Van Kull river and were rescued by tug Wednesday night when an explosion aboard the oil tanker Black Sea caused the vessel to burst into flames while loading gasoline and refined oil at the pier of the Standard Oil company's refinery.

Captain John J. Bulger and eight of his men remained aboard the burning tanker fighting the flames until intense heat forced them to leap for their lives.

Quick work on the part of the crews of Standard Oil boats and lighters enabled them to tow the flaming tanker away from the pier where it was menacing huge stores of gasoline.

Two men were injured by the fire. James Loney, an engineer, was critically burned. He was taken aboard a tug and removed to a hospital.

David Davis, a seaman, injured his right leg when he jumped from the deck of the tanker to the dock a few moments after the explosion.

Concrete street pavement gives the same enduring service as the concrete road

Bellefontaine, Ohio Has Oldest Concrete Street in America

Thirty-four years old, and still on the job. That's the story of America's first concrete street.

Bellefontaine, Ohio, built it—"way back in 1892."

Yet Bellefontaine's first concrete street on Court House Square, like the many other concrete streets it has built since, continues to meet all traffic requirements.

Modern highway builders from near and far go to inspect this veteran pavement; but they no longer marvel at its sturdy service. For they know that in hundreds of cities and towns from one end of the country to the other, concrete streets have proved that they possess the same enduring strength they have shown in Bellefontaine, Ohio.

FOUR DESTROYERS SENT TO SHANGHAI

China's war lords have begun their long predicted move against the armies of Canton and the threatened siege of Shanghai may be averted.

In three localities outside this heavily guarded city powerful military detachments, all seeking to end Canton's drive, are getting into position for an attack. In the event of failure the north Chinese generals are determined to force a fight near Shanghai, thus embroiling the Cantonese armies with foreign forces which would strengthen the cause of the north.

While the south Chinese armies occupy virtually all of Chekiang province and appear ready for their final drive northward, General Chang Chung-chang, who has oversolded the Chinese Sun-Chuan-fang as defender of Shanghai, has surprised military observers by moving his troops against the Cantonese in the west.

General Chang, as governor of Shantung province, was expected to bring relief to the forces of Marshal Sun in the vicinity of Hangchow. Instead he sent his main force to the west, at Lake Taihu, here it is believed he hopes to engage the Cantonese in battle. Embroiling of foreign troops in the Chinese civil war—and the consequent strengthening of north China's cause—is believed to be the object of this move of General Chang.

Reports that the Cantonese had changed their battle plan and had decided to avoid Shanghai, with its foreign population, moving instead against Nanking are believed to have caused Chang's move. By meeting the Cantonese at Lake Taihu, he is believed to feel he can force them to turn their right flank toward Shanghai where they would become involved with foreign armed forces.

CREWS OF CHINESE GUNBOATS ESCAPE.
Shanghai, February 23.—(P)—The Chinese cruisers Kiangwei and Kiangkang, whose crews revolted yesterday and attempted to shell the Kiangnan arsenal one mile from Shanghai, were seized today by officers of Marshal Sun Chuan-fang. Their traitorous crews fled to the shore of the Whang-poo river and escaped summary action for going over to the cause of the nationalist government, whose forces threaten Shanghai.

A third vessel, a gunboat, which also exchanged allegiance, was under guard as a result of the shelling of the French settlement and native city sections of Shanghai yesterday while attempting to bombard the arsenal. The gunboat attempted to drop shells upon the arsenal, but 10 of them fell short, landing in the city. Two American sailors were damaged and two Chinese killed.

BOMBARDMENT PROBED BY ADMIRAL WILLIAMS.
BY JOHN POWELL.
(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
Shanghai, February 23.—A member of the staff of Admiral Clarence S. Williams today personally investigated the bombardment of the French concession last night. He reported to the Tribune correspondent that the shots were fired by disgruntled sailors on two Chinese gunboats, the Kiang Kiang and the Kiangkang, who had not received their wages for more than three months and took advantage of the absence of their officers, firing the guns for the purpose of bringing complications and forcing the payment of their back salaries. The American officer does not believe the firing was the work of the French concession was premeditated, as the shells fell over a wide radius.

fairies that American forces would be protected for British equally with Americans. Officials here, therefore, do not understand the reference in the British memorandum to "absence of guarantees from the Nicaraguan and United States governments," gun and United States officials said.

Inasmuch as the British memorandum states that Great Britain "continues to rely" on the protection afforded by this government, it is not clear why Great Britain contemplates dispatching a war vessel to Nicaragua officials said.

Just two days ago it was announced that the United States and Nicaragua were considering a 100-year treaty which would give the United States a virtual protectorate over the country with control of customs, budgets, police and foreign policy.

Will Aid Administration.
The British move probably will strengthen the administration's hand in dealing with senate opposition. Administration senators have frequently defended the state department course in Nicaragua by declaring that unless the United States preserved order there other powers would try to step in to protect their nationals. Apparently this is what Great Britain is doing.

The United States took another drastic step in the occupation of Nicaragua when marines armed with machine guns were placed on all trains on the Costa-Mangua railroad, the state department announced today.

Marines are now guarding the right-of-way from the Pacific ocean to the capital.

According to the department announcement, these measures were

PLANS OF BORAH ENCOUNTER SENATE

Washington, February 23.—(P)—Plans of Chairman Borah to have the senate foreign relations committee visit Mexico and Nicaragua during the recess of congress to get first-hand information on the situation there encountered some preliminary snags today in the committee itself.

Administration senators forced through a motion directing Senator Borah to obtain the views of Secretary Kellogg as to the desirability of such a visit and secretary of state withheld an expression until he could consult President Coolidge.

The committee is to take up the resolution at another session tomorrow, and unless the president and Mr. Kellogg approve it, administration leaders of the senate are prepared to carry their fight from the committee room to the floor.

Opposition Launched.
Senators Edge, New Jersey; Moses, New Hampshire, and Lenroot, Wisconsin, led the fight against the measure, arguing that a visit of the committee to the Central American republics might embarrass the administration in the controversy with Mexico over oil and land laws and in its handling of the Nicaraguan situation.

During the day Secretary Kellogg, who is ill at his home, discussed the Borah resolution with state department officials, but they said later that he had made no statement as to his attitude. It would cause no surprise, however, if he communicated with Senator Borah tomorrow.

SENATORS STIRRED BY BRITAIN'S MOVE

near sea and move to Caribbean waters.

"What foreign lives have been lost? What property of foreigners has been destroyed?"

Borah also thought it possible that the state department made this announcement to forestall action on his resolution proposing that the senate foreign relations committee visit Nicaragua and other Central American countries to ascertain conditions.

Connivance Hinted.
Senator Fess, Ohio republican, intimated that possibly Great Britain made this move with the assent of the United States.

"It looks as if this move must have been suggested by the state department and the British informed that it would give America no offense," he said. "However, such action throws down the bars of the Monroe doctrine which we have upheld for so many years. It is a very strange proceeding when the chief complaint has been that we have used too many marines in Nicaragua rather than not enough. There has been no cause for such action and no foreign lives or property have been endangered."

While there was some disposition, particularly by Borah and Fess, to believe that there has been an understanding between the United States and Great Britain about this incident, others doubted if this government would connive with a European power regarding a matter involving so sacred a principle as the Monroe doctrine.

Others thought that while the British note may have been sincere and on the initiative of that government alone, that possibly the note has been received here some time ago and was made public at this time to block an impending attempt by the senate foreign relations committee to go to Nicaragua.

Date of Receipt.

The state department copy of the memorandum issued for press use tonight said that the memorandum was received this afternoon from American Minister Eberhardt at Managua, and that the message was dated February 22. Eberhardt's message said that the British memorandum was handed to him that day, that is on February 22.

While there were many suspicions in Washington tonight, there was nothing more than supposition on which to base them and there was no information that disputed the state department's account.

Senator Lenroot, Wisconsin, republican, saw in the statement a challenge to the United States to protect foreigners in Nicaragua.

"We must protect the lives of other nationals in Nicaragua or other nations will take steps to protect their doctrine," he said. "I have not heard of any foreign nationals being injured. Whether any intervention in Nicaragua is now being planned by Mexico, I of course do not know."

Senator Willis, Ohio, republican, a member of the foreign relations committee, said:

"If we cannot protect British nationals in Nicaragua then the Monroe doctrine is destroyed. If we can't protect them there will be nothing left for Great Britain to do except to step in herself."

Senator Watson, Indiana, republican, declared that the United States should have enough troops in Nicaragua to hold the Monroe doctrine.

"If America cannot send enough troops to Nicaragua to protect all foreign interests there, then the British have a right to step in to protect their own nationals and I do not blame them in the least," he said.

"We should have sufficient troops in Nicaragua to uphold our principles of the Monroe doctrine."

ULTIMATUM SENT BY GREAT BRITAIN.

BY GERALD MARTIN.
(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Managua, Nicaragua, February 23. Great Britain has presented an ultimatum to the Nicaraguan and United States governments demanding protection for the lives and property of its subjects in Nicaragua. British Charge d'Affaires Harold Patteson, acting upon instructions from London, yesterday informed Foreign Minister Dr. Carlos Chales Pinos and American Minister Charles E. Eberhardt.

"I have received guarantees for my people here and in such absence I have been instructed to inform the United States government that the British government reluctantly is contemplating the dispatch of a warship to the west coast of Nicaragua to protect the British interests."

Mr. Patteson told the Tribune: "I want to feel that my own people are safe here. There are 200 white Britishers here, business men and planters and their families, while there are many Americans on the east coast. In Matagalpa there are around 60 and in Leon 20 families."

Muscle Shoals Operation By Lease Recommended By Republican League

Report of Southern Organization Says Government Should Retain Title to Properties.

Greenville, Miss., February 23.—(AP)—The federal government should retain title to its properties at Muscle Shoals but should not itself become a competitor of private enterprise, a special committee of the Southern States Republican League has recommended after study of the shoals problem.

The findings of the committee, made public here tonight by Colonel Charles U. Gordon, president of the league, are endorsed by the executive committee of the league. Residents of seven southern states compose the investigating committee.

The report urges that both nitrate plants at Muscle Shoals be maintained ready for efficient operation until the secretaries of war and navy shall certify that they are no longer needed for national defense.

Lease Recommended.

Lease of the properties to "a responsible person or group who will operate them as one group for the primary purpose of manufacturing fertilizer, is recommended under certain specified conditions. Such power as is generated above the needs of fertilizer manufacturing would be distributed at equitable rates to consumers everywhere within the limits of economical transmission." In carrying out the committee recommendations.

Revenues derived from the lease of the properties should be used over a period not exceeding 10 years to stimulate and develop the fertilizer industry "in all its phases," the report advised.

The committee recommended that in the event a satisfactory lease is not obtainable, the matter be referred to the secretaries of war and navy and agriculture as a commission, with power to act.

The committee of the Southern States Republican League was named by resolution of the organization on December 8, last, with instructions to investigate the question of the utilization and development of Muscle Shoals "as a matter of economic concern to southern people."

The committee consisted of John Stephen Sewell, chairman, Alabama; Warren Kearney, Louisiana; Frank B. Russell, Kentucky; George L. Sholdon, Mississippi; John Q. Eaton, Tennessee; Charles E. Cotterill, Georgia.

Committee Report.

"The committee is unanimously of the opinion that the purpose of the act authorizing this group of projects at Muscle Shoals as a war measure was fully accomplished and the expenditure justified, even though the entire cost were to be charged on insurance against undue prolongation of the great war," the report sets forth.

The investigators found "the worst feature" of the present shoals situation was that "the final disposition of this investment is in suspense."

Recommendations drawn from the survey were summarized as follows:

"The settlement of the Muscle Shoals question on a reasonable basis and without further delay is of the utmost importance."

"In settling this question the government itself should not become a competitor of private enterprise."

"The government should, however, retain the title to its properties at Muscle Shoals."

"Both nitrate plants should be maintained in efficient condition ready to operate, until such time as the secretaries of war and of the navy shall certify that this is no longer necessary for purposes of national defense."

"Whatever the plan of disposition of Muscle Shoals, all power there generated and not immediately needed in the production of fertilizer should be widely distributed at equitable rates to consumers everywhere within the limits of economical transmission."

Operate as Group.

"If practicable, the properties should be leased to a responsible bidder who will operate them as one group for the production of fertilizer as a prime object, but in accordance with the principles set forth in these recommendations, and in house concurrent resolution No. 4, sixty-ninth congress, first session, and subject to the further condition that the manufacture of fertilizer be abandoned for any reason, the lease shall automatically cease and terminate."

"If the procedure of the preceding paragraph be found impracticable, the power and fertilizer propositions (should) be definitely separated; that in that case the nitrate plants shall be maintained in stand-by condition and the power plant shall be leased with a view to the distribution of power as widely as possible and on reasonable terms to consumers within practicable transmission distances."

"The terms of such lease to be based on the fair market value of all the power generated and sold but with a minimum rental sufficient to pay a reasonable return upon the cost of the lock, dam and powerhouse, less the value of the lock and dam for purposes of navigation."

"In case this mode of procedure is followed, the revenue derived from the lease shall, for a reasonable time not to exceed ten years, be dedicated to the stimulation and development of the fertilizer industry in all its phases by large scale experiments and research, not only upon methods and processes of production, but also the best location and distribution of plants, best methods of use in various kinds of soils, demonstration of new and improved methods of using fertilizer and all similar questions."

"If a satisfactory lease upon some one of the lines herein suggested cannot be obtained, then in order to avoid the serious indirect expense of further delay, the matter (should) be referred to the secretaries of war, navy and agriculture as a commission with power to act."

PINE INSTITUTE WILL ADVERTISE

Jacksonville, Fla., February 23.—(AP)—Following delivery of an address prepared by Colonel W. B. Greeley, chief of the United States forest service, his annual get-together conference of the Pine Institute of America adjourned here today after the adoption of a series of resolutions, chief among which was one for the appointment of a committee to consider proposals for a national advertising campaign showing the value of naval stores products.

Alex Sessions, Copelet, Ga., was named chairman of the committee. Other members are R. M. Newton, Wiggins, Miss.; Carl Speh, New Orleans, and H. L. Richmond, Jacksonville.

The south leads the United States in industrial forestry today and is taking a more active part in reforestation than any other section, Colonel Greeley declared in his address, which was read to the conference by Carl J. Speh, chairman, in the absence of its writer. Colonel Greeley was detained in Washington by business in connection with a senatorial investigation of forestry work.

Production problems and pine tree raising were discussed in an open forum meeting this afternoon.

The conference adjourned without naming successors to O. B. L. Wernicke, president, and his son, Carl Wernicke, secretary, who gave notice Monday of their unwillingness to stand for reelection. They will continue to serve until trustees of the institute name successors. Other resolutions adopted by the naval stores and forestry men's conference advocated continuous and extensive research work, asked the conference committee on federal relations to improve and increase the statistics supplied by the government on the consumption of naval stores, and recommended the appointment of a committee to call the attention of naval stores trade bodies to the use of the Paint Oil and Varnish association that naval stores be sold on a net weight basis.

Thomas J. Aycock, Jacksonville, was named general chairman of the 1928 conference. No place for the 1928 meeting was named.

Los Angeles, February 23.—(AP)—A romance of the films that began more than a year ago when Estelle Bradley, Atlanta, Ga., beauty contest winner, secretly married Charles Lamont, director at the studio where she was employed, after a whirlwind courtship, went on the rocks today as she filed suit for a divorce.

The complaint charges Lamont with coldness and indifference. Miss Bradley entered motion pictures following the Atlantic City beauty pageant in 1924 where, as "Miss Atlanta," she won the prize as the most beautiful girl in the southern division.

HOSPITAL AFIRE, NINE PATIENTS, NURSES RESCUED

LANCASTER, N. H., February 23.—(United News).—Nine patients and four nurses were saved from a burning death in a series of thrilling rescues when flames swept the Lancaster hospital here early Tuesday.

A mother with a newly-born child, a patient convalescing from an attack of pneumonia, and three male patients with broken legs were among those rescued.

With the temperature at 10 degrees above zero, the rescued were taken from the blazing building clad only in night clothing. These were carried out on stretchers by volunteers before arrival of the fire department.

The fire was caused by explosion of a gasoline-operated laundry machine in the basement.

Those rescued were Mrs. Raymond Hilliard and child; Mrs. Frank Marshall; Mrs. Frank Monahan; Walter Norton; Miss Helen Stevens, nurse; and John Foss; George Prebles and Louis Rabshaw, each suffering with a broken leg.

Helen Carti, Miss Dorothy Pinkham and Miss Beula Dunn were the other nurses rescued.

CAROLINAS GROUNDS

American Steamer With Coal Is Distressed.

Norfolk, Va., February 23.—(AP)—The American steamer Carolinas, bound from Newport News to Fall River, Mass., with a cargo of coal, was hard aground today off Sewall's Point Spit and preparations are being made for lightening her cargo in an effort to float her.

The Carolinas was bound out from Newport News on Monday night loaded with about 4,800 tons of coal. Within the past 48 hours a slight alteration in the hours marking the channel had been made and the change in the markings confused the skipper of the vessel and she ran aground where she remains firmly imbedded in four feet of mud. Five or six tugs worked throughout yesterday without moving the ship at all.

W. Delarino, in charge of floating the vessel for Hauler & Co., her agents, stated this morning that it would be necessary to lighten 1,500 tons of the cargo. The vessel would probably require 36 hours.

The Carolinas, which was formerly the shipping board steamer Pinellas, is owned by the Mallory-Hauler line, New York. Captain John Larson is master of the ship, which is of 6,300 deadweight tons.

COMMITTEE NAMED ON NEW CITY HALL

Wylie L. Moore, C. L. Chosewood, Horace Russell, S. A. Wardlaw and Dr. P. L. Moore Wednesday were appointed a special committee to investigate the possibility of erection of a new city hall and authorized to make recommendations as to location of the new building.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale selected the councilman committee in accordance with a resolution passed Monday by council and named Mr. Moore as chairman. The mayor also on Wednesday completed signing all papers offered to him by council. He approved them all.

AUGUSTA MAN DIES OF AUTO INJURIES

Miami, Fla., February 23.—(AP)—John Kramer, 55, of Miami, formerly of Augusta, Ga., died at a hospital early today from injuries received in an automobile accident Tuesday night.

Clyde McIntyre, driver of the car in which Kramer was riding, was painfully injured.

SHOOTING LIONS IN AFRICA EASY, WOMAN ASSERTS

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, February 23.—Killing African lions and tigers is simply a matter of pointing your gun in some direction and letting go, according to Mrs. Harriet Wentworth, who returned with her husband, a Chicago architect, the French liner, Paris, today, with two cheetahs for the field museum at Chicago.

They have been hunting with friends in the Tanganyika region of north central Africa and say they never shot anything but clay pigeons before this experience with big game.

"It's frightfully easy," Mrs. Wentworth said. "We hunted in the crater of an extinct volcano, where just about every kind of big game of the jungle was to be seen, and buffalo, which were migrating, hung out. There was no danger at all. We were never charged by any enraged beast."

The Wentworths bagged four lions and three leopards. The party of 40, which was accompanied by 80 native porters, slew altogether 28 lions.

LIBEL IS CHARGED TO NEWSPAPER MEN BY GRAND DRAGON

Birmingham, Ala., February 23.—(AP)—James Esdale, grand dragon for Alabama of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, today swore out a warrant charging libel against Frederick L. Thompson, publisher of the Birmingham Age-Herald, and two executives of the newspaper. The action followed publication of a speech alleged to have been made before a Birmingham Klan recently in which Esdale was quoted as "endorsing masked whippings."

Mr. Esdale's warrant said "this false and libelous matter has a tendency to provoke a breach of the peace." The Klan, he said in his statement, "stands for law enforcement by duly constituted authorities."

C. M. Stanley, associated editor, and R. W. Vance, city editor of the Age-Herald, the other men named in the warrant, accepted service and signed bond.

Mr. Thompson, who is now in Mobile, also will accept service, on his return to Birmingham, of a warrant sworn out recently by Attorney General Charles C. McCall, charging libel in connection with an editorial in the Age-Herald on the price of school books in Alabama and which touched on an alleged address made by McCall before the Montgomery Klan.

ATLANTA WOMAN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH IN TAMPA

News of the serious injury in Tampa last Sunday of Mrs. May Gibson, formerly of Atlanta, reached friends here Wednesday, the information being that an automobile she was driving collided with a moving freight train Sunday morning on the outskirts of Tampa.

Mrs. Gibson was employed for a long period here as a manicurist with the Mike and Mack Barber shop chain, leaving late last summer to accept a place in Tampa. She has a 10-year-old son who is attending Berry schools, at Rome, and Mike Kelly, her former employer, stated Wednesday that he was endeavoring to locate her mother, believed to be residing in New Orleans, or other members of Mrs. Gibson's family.

The young woman's right arm was broken and her skull was crushed, it was learned here. Physicians at Gordon Teller hospital, where she was taken by ambulance, have only slight hopes for her recovery, it was said.

"Mrs. Gibson had been employed by us a long time," Mr. Kelly said Wednesday, "and was one of the best known and most capable women we ever employed. We are trying to get some information of her mother's whereabouts, as Mrs. Gibson has been unconscious since the accident Sunday morning."

Preferential Rates On Cotton Shipments Urged by Ransdell

Washington, February 23.—(AP)—A bill to direct that the interstate commerce commission establish preferential rates on cotton shipments, based on the cubic contents of the bale, was introduced today by Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana.

The measure provides that the commission, in determining whether a shipment deserved favorable discrimination, should take into consideration the density, size and uniformity of the bale together with the nature of its covering as a safeguard against damage by fire.

DEAN JOHNSTON BACK, MEETS CLASS TONIGHT

The Very Rev. Thomas H. Johnston, D. D., dean of St. Philip's cathedral, returned Wednesday evening from Cambridge, N. Y., where he attended the funeral of Mrs. Johnston's mother, Mrs. Mary J. McCallahan. Mrs. Johnston will return Friday.

The dean will meet the confirmation class at his residence, 1165 St. Charles place, N. E., this evening at 8 o'clock.

300 STUDENTS GATHER FOR CONFERENCE HERE

More than 300 students and delegates from southern colleges will gather in Atlanta today to attend the Southern Conference of International Relations in a three-day session with headquarters at Agnes Scott college and Emory university. The International Relations clubs, of which a score of southern chapters will be represented here, are supported by the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

Today's opening will be featured by a luncheon and reception at Agnes Scott at which faculty members will deliver addresses of welcome to the visitors, followed by a debate to-night between teams from Furman and Emory universities. Plans for Friday include an address at 9:30 o'clock in the morning by Dr. Emmett Kilpatrick, of the University of South Carolina, at Emory, followed by round table discussions and a business session at 11:30 o'clock. An address during the afternoon by Professor E. H. Henderson, of Furman university, and a meeting of delegates at which Miss Amy H. Jones, formerly of Atlanta and secretary of the International Relations Clubs, will preside, is to be followed by a dinner at the Emory dining hall, at which the local university will be host to the visitors.

SENATE CONFIRMS TENNESSEE MAN

Washington, February 23.—(AP)—A. V. McLane was confirmed today by the senate as United States district attorney for the middle Tennessee district.

The nomination was in controversy before the senate judiciary committee, which, however, made a favorable report after a long hearing involving charges of the sale of federal patronage in Tennessee.

Breakfast at home, lunch in the most beautiful restaurant in Georgia, shop in the Southland's greatest store, and return by motor in ample time to have supper with the family!!!

Marvelous, to be sure, but not any more so than the progress that has been made in department store service, since the day you saw the first automobile chugging along the highway.

Davison-Paxon Company established a Department Store on Whitehall street in 1890. That was before any of us had seen an automobile

The policy we pursued, the values we gave, the courtesies we extended and the friends we made, all have contributed to the success from which grew the wonderful building that is to be our future home, at the corner of Peachtree and Ellis streets.

And, what a magnificent structure it is! The only building south of Philadelphia, in fact one of the very few large stores in America, especially designed as a modern home for retailing.

From sub-basement to the pent house on the roof, every modern appliance and device; every noteworthy feature that will facilitate rapid and comfortable service for our customers, have been installed.

Shopping in this store will be a revelation to the people of Atlanta and Georgia and the South. Not within 800 miles will you find a counterpart. A remarkable Temple of Commerce, dedicated to supplying the needs and desires of the community.

The affiliation with R. H. Macy & Co., Inc., of New York City, surrounds this establishment with resources and facilities which make it the commercial giant of the Southland.

The markets of the world are open and responsive to our many buyers who go everywhere in quest of desirable merchandise. The tremendous volume of our combined purchases obtains price concessions which but few—very few stores in America—enjoy.

These things, which are ours by virtue of progressive and constructive methods of storekeeping, are yours by right of loyal patronage, over a period of 37 years.

You and we, together, will share the results of these economies as we journey on.

This new store will be open in MARCH!

The Marriage Problem

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

Author of "Siege," "The Clarion," "A Bench in Our Square," etc.
Girls Becoming More Like Boys in Impatience of Sex Restrictions—Woman Will Decide the Future of Marriage—She Begins to Wonder Whether the Rope That Rescued Her May Become a Binding Chain.

A century forward is a much longer period than a century back. We are covering so much more ground per year than we used to. The nineteenth century was an easy, logical, jog-trot progress. Toward the end of the race accelerated, and got pretty lively in the opening years of the twentieth.

Now we are in a race in which we are sloughing off a lot of burdensome impediments in order to go the faster. Systems go into the discard where before only methods were supplanted. Whether marriage will be among the lot is one of the vital questions. I should say that the women will decide it.

Woman invented marriage. Nature had rather unkindly wished on her all the bothersome features of the job of race perpetuation, and she naturally began to figure how to carry on with the least trouble to herself, her strategy taking form, some time before the beginning of history, and she naturally devised a scheme for stabilizing the home.

The simple process of mating became systematized into the complex responsibility of marriage on that dim but profoundly historic day when the first articulate woman announced to the first surprised and disconcerted man, "This is your child as much as mine. Now you go out and hustle grub for the family and see that you get home before dark, or some fine evening you'll find the rope that rescued her is not likely to become a chain to bind her."

Arbitrary stuff this; but the dawn of civilization laid made good because there were so few of her that she was in a position to dictate. By and by she got her useful formula adopted as tribal custom, and from that to the formality and authority of law was an easy step. Then religion came along, and said: "This is my affair," thereby adding the weight of its power to ban and bless. And, finally, social custom gave to the wedding ring the exclusive monopoly of respectability in its own department. Woman had won her place in the sun. She was fixed for eternity.

The question is: Does she want to stay fixed? Consider the fact that for all these centuries she has established and accepted her role as an exclusively child-bearing, house-keeping mechanism, with, of late centuries, a certain added esthetic rating.

But some time in the last century a new feminism thrust forth its enlightened (or half-lighted—take your pick) head. It entered woman's mind that it was not the economic free-for-all stakes and asked no handicap.

Universities, doctorates, clans, sects and professions tried to lay their hands on the woman who had been having successfully achieved without a million years or so before, she now made an equal claim to spinstership, and established it.

She now offers the cataclysmic and wholly unhistoric spectacle of the female who frankly does not regard a wedding ring as a halo or the orange blossom as the crown of her crown of paradise. She has other things to think about.

Which is not intended to mean that she does not think about marriage. She thinks about it interestingly and deeply, and I suspect that at the bottom of her thought—almost speaking now of the typical modern woman—there is a little of the surmise as to whether she needs it any longer. It served its purpose; it emancipated her from sex slavery. But she would like to know now whether the rope that rescued her is not likely to become a chain to bind her.

To put loose from it would be a tremendous venture, indeed. To that type of mind which believes that because a thing always has been it always will be such an innovation is unthinkable. But, despite the Tennessee school of thought, the race and type do alter. We are sloughing off our appendages; and, ad nauseam, essentially, the things we were to our remote ancestors are no longer fashionable.

Perhaps a chief mark of modernity is that changes have ceased to be conscious of even, necessarily, here. Only a short time ago, as history goes, it was treason to change nationality, hell fire to change religion and had form to change wives. Now we manage these things perhaps not better, but more smoothly.

If we think that is so, if women determine to alter the whole scheme and basis of matrimony between now and the twenty-first century, they will at least be able to try it without fear of jail or damnation or ostracism.

Whether we like it or not, the two sexes are rapidly reaching a common basis of existence, with common standards, though the change is all on one side. Our young men are not becoming more like young women, but our girls are certainly becoming more like young men in adventurousness, in impatience of sex restrictions, in demands for rights and privileges.

Their daughters, granddaughters and further descendants may carry on the banner or they may revert toward the old femineity of type. One man's guess is as good as another's and any woman's better than either. For as woman contrived, so she can alter or destroy marriage at her will.

REPORT VINDICATES WILBERFORCE SCHOOL

Complete vindication of officials of Wilberforce university, big institution of learning for negroes at Xenia, Ohio, and sweeping repudiation of "unknown parties," who instigated an investigation by state officials of the accounts of the school recently, comprised the official report submitted by Bishop Joshua H. Jones, of the diocese of Ohio and Pennsylvania, to the Bishops' Council at Jacksonville, Florida, according to a transcript of the report made public Wednesday in Atlanta.

The investigation was made in December, 1926, by Sheridan A. Bruseaux, principal of a detective agency of Chicago, and was conducted for the purpose of uncovering alleged irregularities in fiscal and financial matters. Bishops in conference at Jacksonville commended and endorsed Bishop Jones' report, which he made as chairman of the board of trustees of Wilberforce university.

In his report, Bishop Jones declared that "investigators of the surreptitious investigation" refused to reveal their identity, and that despite the placing of all matters of records before the investigators, not a single trace of irregularity was discovered.

Preamble to Report. The report was introduced with the following statement: "In the early part of the month of December, 1926, Sheridan A. Bruseaux, principal, Keystone National Detective agency, Chicago, Ill., with a group of assistants, appeared at Wilberforce university for the avowed purpose of conducting a far-reaching investigation into the affairs of the university pursuant to alleged rumors of gross irregularities particularly in fiscal and financial matters. Extensive publicity was given to various charges through the press and many gross misrepresentations were made. It is, therefore, felt that the best interests and welfare of Wilberforce university would be served by making public certain portions of the report of Investigator Bruseaux, bearing directly upon these charges."

Excerpts from the official report by Investigator Bruseaux were included in Bishop Jones' report. Among them were the following: "There is nothing in this investigation which points to anything dishonest, or even dishonorable, in the conduct of Bishop Jones."

Another excerpt: "This investigation is an authoritative answer to the question: 'Does Wilberforce university, in its present state of efficiency and management merit the support and consideration of all public spirited citizens?' That answer, unquestionably, should be yes."

Purchases are Probed. Touching upon purchase of materials for the school, the investigator's report had this to say: "A substantial saving, was effected by Wilberforce in the purchase of coal and gravel used in building Shorter hall." (The hall had been destroyed by fire.) Refuting insinuations against auditing at the school, the investigators reported: "The system of bookkeeping used at Wilberforce university is known as the Carnegie system of institutional or college bookkeeping and is regarded as one of the best systems used in America. A skilled bookkeeper is in charge."

A material admission is made in the following paragraph on page 18 of the investigator's report: "No substantial objection of the presidency of Dr. Gilbert H. Jones has been found."

It is true that he is the son of Bishop Joshua H. Jones, which gives color to the charge of nepotism. It is also true that the son of a trustee of the university is a student of the university. The combined normal and industrial department, which tends to aggravate the charge of favoritism. But on the other hand President Jones is out of the best respected men in the educational life of America and has the background of a dozen years at Wilberforce to his credit. This report records the fact, therefore, as head of Wilberforce university to be a logical one.

Conclusion of Report.

In concluding his report to the Jacksonville conference, Bishop Jones had the following to say: "With further reference to this investigation I desire to state that at the instance of Sheridan A. Bruseaux, the auditor of the state of Ohio, Joseph T. Tracy sent State Examiner E. Frank Brown to examine and investigate the affairs of the combined normal and industrial department of Wilberforce university and in mentioning the findings of his report the article which appeared in the city edition of The Columbus Citizen on February 12, 1927, is quoted for your information."

"Not a single find for recovery of state funds is made in the report of Sheridan A. Bruseaux, principal, filed Thursday with State Auditor Tracy, covering an audit of the accounts of the combined normal and industrial department of Wilberforce university, near Xenia."

"Investigation of the supported section of the negro university, which was conducted by the department of the state, was made last summer by Sheridan Bruseaux, Chicago detective, involving alleged irregularities on the part of Superintendent R. C. Bundy and other officials."

Jacksonville, Fla., February 23.—(Special.)—The bishops' council, A. M. E. church, held a winter session here with all present except J. N. Ross, Gregg and Brooks, of Africa. The question came up concerning refusal of bishop Jones to disclose four years or more. As to changing assignments, it was freely talked that the coming general conference will not permit any bishop to return to his diocese for more than four years.

MONCRIEF IS NAMED AIR PILOT EXAMINER

Dr. David D. Moncrief, of College Park, has been appointed official medical examiner for would-be air pilots in Georgia, according to announcement Wednesday by Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce.

Rigid physical examinations are to be given all applicants for air pilots' licenses and for pilots in the army service by Dr. Moncrief, who took a three months' course last year in New York as an airman's representative, qualified for the post of medical examiner for air pilots.

Milton C. Work's Pointer On How To Play Bridge

(Milton C. Work, the international bridge authority, will answer your auction bridge questions. A stamped self-addressed envelope must accompany each request for replies.)

(In response to numerous requests, Mr. Work will write on contract for the next few days. During that time, his daily Auction Bridge Pointers will be omitted, but will be resumed next Monday.)

Yesterday this article contained the Contract Count adopted by the Racket club of New York and in general use in that city. Today we give a more recent count adopted by the Knickerbocker Whist club of New York and rapidly growing in favor.

Trick values are the same as in Bridge: Clubs 6, Diamonds 7, Hearts 8, Spades 9, No Trumps 10. Game, as in Bridge, 30 points. Of course there is the Contract provision that only the number of tricks both bid and made are scored in the trick column.

Four honors in one hand count 100, five honors in one hand 150, four Aces in one hand 150. (No other honor scores.)

The premium for winning a game is 300, and for winning the rubber (in addition to the 200 rubber-game premium) 500.

For making the contract: if undoubled, nothing; if doubled, when not vulnerable, 50; if doubled, when vulnerable, 100. Redoubling doubles these values.

For overtricks (extra tricks in excess of bid): when not vulnerable, if undoubled, 50; if doubled, 100; if redoubled, 200. When vulnerable, these values are doubled.

Slams bid and made: Little Slam, when not vulnerable, 500; when vulnerable, 750. Grand Slam, when not vulnerable, 1,000; when vulnerable, 1,500.

If Declarer fail to fulfill his contract, he scores nothing whatsoever except honors, if held, and the opponents score for undertricks as follows: when not vulnerable, if undoubled, for each undertrick, 50; if doubled, for each of the first three undertricks 100, for fourth undertrick 200, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 800. If redoubled, for first three undertricks (each) 200, for fourth undertrick 400, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 800.

For failure to fulfill contract, when vulnerable, if undoubled, for each undertrick 100; if doubled, for first three undertricks 200, for fourth undertrick 400, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 800. If redoubled, for first three undertricks (each) 400, for fourth undertrick 800, for all subsequent undertricks (each) 1,600.

The Revoke Penalty: Two tricks for the first revoke; for each subsequent revoke, regardless of whether it be made in the same or in another suit, 100 points in the honor column. Tomorrow the main differences between the two popular counts will be noted.

Ex-Minister Dies.

Stamford, Conn., February 23.—(AP) George Pratt Ingersoll, 66, minister to Siam under President Wilson, died today.

CIVIC LEAGUE URGES MANY WIDER STREETS

Proposed extension of Broad street from Mitchell to the junction of Forsyth and Whitehall, widening of Whitehall from the junction of Forsyth to Murphy avenue and of Stewart avenue from Whitehall, and extension of Dill avenue from Stewart avenue to South Pryor street were unanimously endorsed Tuesday by more than 350 members of the Capitol View Civic league. It was announced Wednesday by John C. Mackey, president.

In addition to giving unreserved endorsement to the proposals, it was decided that a special committee will appear before Fulton county commissioners to urge financial backing to all the proposals. This committee will be named at a later date.

The league also went on record as endorsing demand of the citizens advisory committee that a complete audit of 1926 accounts of the Atlanta board of education be made at once. Commissioner Roy D. Warren's stand relative to the closing of the negro night schools and his fight to prevent closing of kindergartens also were favored by vote of the league.

The league will add its support to that of the Central Improvement association in seeking the Broad street improvement. Alderman Charles M. Ford and Councilman W. Garland Cooper, of the tenth, made short speeches favoring the proposal. Mr. Mackey outlined the political aspect of the present financial crisis of the school system in a brief address.

DEATH TOLL LARGE ON R. R. PROPERTY DESPITE WARNINGS

"Repeated warnings of the deadly peril of trespassing on railway property have been given but enough persons continue the dangerous practice to result in about the same number of deaths and injuries every year," states R. B. Pegram, vice president of the Southern Railway system.

During the year just closed 325 trespassers were killed and 154 injured while trespassing on the tracks and trains of the Southern, according to figures made public by the Southern's safety department.

Of those who took the risk of using the Southern's tracks as public highways, 100 were killed and 68 injured, while 35 were killed and 80 injured while trespassing on trains.

For the preceding four years the casualties to trespassers on the Southern were as follows: 1922, 129 killed, 171 injured; 1923, 154 killed and 178 injured; 1924, 130 killed and 174 injured; 1925, 128 killed and 151 injured.

Dreaded Colds Yield to This New Treatment

Discovery of Distinguished Chemist Said To Be Greatest Medical Find of the Age.

Recent scientific research discloses the fact that poison like in the system is merely a contributory cause to bad colds, and that the "bad cold germ" propagates only when the system is acid.

Two things then, are now considered necessary for bad cold relief—thoroughly cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels, and alkaline the system, which can now be done for the first time with one preparation, "Alertox," the discovery of a Southern Chemist.

Alertox is a liquid saline solution of well known mineral salts, dominated by sulphate of magnesium, which causes a physical (natural) evacuation of the entire intestinal tract, at the same time neutralizing the acidity of the system. Strong purgatives that goad the liver merely cause a "chemical" evacuation and should be avoided as they leave the system in a weakened condition. Under the Alertox treatment, the system is fortified and colds rarely ever return on more than 24 hours, and often disappear in half that time.

Alertox is pleasant to take, non-irritating, non-toxic and will not sicken or nauseate. 25c and 60c sizes at any drug store. If your druggist cannot supply Alertox, it will be sent direct upon receipt of price. Crystal Carbonic Laboratory, Desk J, Atlanta, Georgia.—(adv.)

A Sweet Stomach!

What a pity when youth and vitality are set at naught by a disordered stomach, and bad breath! Don't have them at any age! Heartburn—bad smokers—high-livers—Stuart's is a boon and blessing!

Eat what you wish. Drink what you like. Then chew a Stuart tablet. That gives the stomach sufficient alkaline; the result is a sweet stomach, serene digestion, no pains, no seas.

Full Box FREE! Every druggist has Stuart's tablets, 25c and 60c. Or, a full box free if you write the F. A. Stuart Co., Dept. N 70, Marshall, Mich. Get a metal box of Stuart's for the pocket—and keep it filled! A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents.

Is This Your HABIT?

Many of our friends have told us that they have formed a habit of using the Sears Store as a guide in their shopping. They first see what Sears ask for the things they need and then go about to price them elsewhere.

That's fine! We wish more people would take time to do this, for we know that they would discover, as did our informants, that the savings we offered were great enough to make it worth while to come back and buy.

If this is not your habit, we urge you to develop it.

And the more you develop it, the surer are we of your patronage and the greater will be your savings.

PRIVATE COACH OF EX-KAISER SHIPPED SOUTH

High Point, N. C., February 23.—(AP)—A private coach of former Kaiser Wilhelm, of Germany, a vehicle which figured in many celebrations of peace and in which the emperor is said to have ridden on the occasion of his wedding, has been received here by S. C. Clark, antique collector. Crowds gathered at the station when the coach arrived and the railroad company said its immediate removal in fear that parts of it would be carried off by memento hunters. Mr. Clark has a number of other carriages, some said to be among the oldest in the United States.

Flood of Junior League Advertising Matches Rain

180 CANVASSERS SET RECORD DESPITE WEATHER

BY HERB M'CURKER.

Making hay while the sun shines may be all to the mercy of some folks, but when Atlanta girls step out to fetch home the hay, a little thing like two inches of rain isn't going to cut any ice at all.

And just because that is so, Wednesday's saturation didn't deter the 180 "shock troops" of the Junior League from obtaining a record number of advertisements for insertion in the special Junior League edition of The Constitution, which will be distributed over the country on the morning of March 30.

Wednesday's rain, rather, had a stimulating effect. Because proverbially tired business men couldn't obtain much needed rest by tramping 18 holes behind in estimate, careening white neller, the Junior League canvassers found the "at home" sign on offices throughout the downtown district. And when the canvassers gathered in league headquarters on the sixth floor, The Constitution Wednesday night it was found that every team on duty had made progress that surpassed the most optimistic estimations.

Mrs. Warren is "Ae." Mrs. Green Warren, physical director of Washington seminary, officially came temporary "Ae" of the league flying squadron when she staged an impromptu sortie and brought to the highest total of advertising orders for the day. Just to show that nothing is impossible, Mrs. Eugene Harrington.

The splendid response with which the edition campaign has met exceeds our fondest hope and convincingly indicates that Atlanta business men and women have been most encouraging and have cooperated wonderfully with our canvassers.

Inquiries continued to pour into the special edition headquarters on the sixth floor of The Constitution building. Information regarding the edition may be obtained by telephoning Walnut 6685 for the league headquarters. It's for charity—are you?

COMPLAINT MADE AGAINST CONDUCT OF JUDGE'S TRIAL

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, February 23.—Protests against rulings barring testimony offered to substantiate impeachment charges against Frank Cooper, federal judge, of Albany, N. Y., were voiced today by Representative La Guardia, republican, of New York, when the house judiciary committee resumed its investigation. Judge Cooper is accused by La Guardia of conspiring with dry agents to entrap suspected bootleggers later brought before him for trial.

Hitting an attempt is being made to whitewash the jurist, La Guardia warned the committee that he will ask the house to take the investigation out of its hands and name a special committee unless he is given a reasonable latitude in production of evidence.

The clash between La Guardia and Representative Graham, republican, of Pennsylvania, committee chairman, came when the latter ruled out portions of the testimony given by R. Q. Merrick, former Chicago dry agent, charged that Cooper and Merrick agreed upon a plan by which Merrick's men operated as rum-runners from the Canadian border to build up conspiracy cases against other smugglers.

As a result of these operations, Merrick testified, alleged bootleggers were arrested, taken before a "friendly" United States commissioner and held for trial before Judge Cooper. In each instance heavy penalties were imposed by the judge.

NEW YORK, February 23.—(AP)—Accused of having posed as George R. Harvey, former American ambassador to the Court of St. James, and of having swindled a woman out of $500, Robert McCormick, 33 years old, 33-year-old pleaded guilty of grand larceny in the second degree.

McCormick, who has been convicted four times and arrested 18, is six feet tall and of distinguished appearance. He obtained a room at the establishment of Mrs. Mary Johnson on Broadway, saying he desired to escape the heavy calls made on his time by his many friends and acquaintances.

There, it is said, he discussed a "big deal in Florida" with another man, leaving the door ajar. When Mrs. Johnson seemed to display interest in the proceedings, he agreed to take her "in" on the deal for $500.

MOTHER AND SON WIN DIVORCES ON SAME DAY

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

White Plains, N. Y., February 23. The Burch-Marson marital omelet was dissolved into its elements today by Justice Seeger in supreme court here after 30 minutes of testimony.

Lyndon Walkup Burch, of Yonkers, received a decree of divorce from his wife, who eloped to California last October with Captain Arnaldo Marson.

Mrs. Grace Walkup Burch Marson, mother of Burch, obtained a divorce from Captain Marson. Burch, grandson of the late Right Rev. Charles Sumner Burch, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, received custody of his two children, Harold, 5, and Marilyn, 1.

Mrs. Marson received $35 a week alimony, $15 less than she asked. Counsel for Marson told the judge his client was unable to meet a larger assessment, as he was out of work and had no special assets.

Five depositions from San Francisco, where the elopers were arrested on federal charges, were submitted to prove the grounds.

MAGICIAN FAILS TO SEND WIDOW SPIRIT MESSAGE

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, February 23.—Since the death of Harry Houdini, the magician, his widow has waited in vain for his promised communication from the spirit world.

Before his death Houdini left with his wife a code and said that if possible he would communicate with her in that code.

Mrs. Houdini has received many messages from mediums who assert they have talked with her husband, but their "messages" have not tallied with the code.

ALABAMA TOWN GETS UNDERWEAR MILL

(Special.)—Florence business and professional men have accepted the proposition of the Gardiner-Warring company for the establishment of a half million dollar knitting mill here on condition that the city provide a building costing approximately $100,000.

The Florence Industrial Corporation has been organized to meet this requirement and will lease it to the company for a period of 10 years, the company having the privilege of buying it.

Construction work on the new building is expected to begin Monday, February 28, on a site bordering the Lee highway in east Florence. The mill will manufacture knitted underwear.

TEAGUE EXTRADITION TO KENTUCKY SOUGHT

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Requisition papers from Kentucky seeking return to that state of A. M. Teague, of Fairmont, Ga., charging him with obtaining money under false pretense were received by Governor Clifford Walker Wednesday. A hearing in the case will be held Friday by John Wilson, secretary to the governor.

Complaint against Teague was filed by J. L. Blair, of Barbourville, Ky., who alleges that Teague obtained money from him through misrepresentation in a deal for some purported oil lands.

Posse Seeks Bandits.

Memphis, Tenn., February 23.—(AP) At the request of Memphis police a heavily armed sheriff's posse was stationed on the highway near Somerville, Tenn., to intercept three bandits who robbed the office of the Standard Oil company here today of $7,000 in cash and about the same amount in checks. Reports to the police here state that the men were headed toward Somerville, about 36 miles northeast of Memphis.

Springfield, Mo., February 23.—(AP) Angered, he said, because his father was beating his mother with a chair, Calvin Frederick, Jr., 11, today shot and probably fatally wounded Calvin Frederick, Sr., 45, formerly of Harrison, Ark. The charge from a shotgun struck Frederick in the temple and blew off the top of his skull. "I'm not sorry and I'd do it again," the boy told neighbors.

Lease Bill Passed.
Washington, February 23.—(AP)—Senate bill to authorize issuance of oil and gas mining leases upon unsurveyed lands within executive order Indian reservations was passed by the house today and sent to the president.

Say to Mr. Smith—
I'll call you Tuesday at nine o'clock

Those of you who depend upon long distance to speed up business transactions will find the new schedules and privileges more convenient than ever.

For instance, you can now have your sales force, branch managers or customers call you by the inexpensive station-to-station rate, and have the call charged to you. This applies wherever the rate is twenty-five cents or more.

Business men in general have been quick to take advantage of this privilege. It is bound to effect material savings for you, too.

The night reduction rate period has been extended as well. Low rates are now in force after 7 P. M. From 8:30 to 4:30 A. M., the rates are still lower.

GRAVES TO OFFER CLAIM TO SHOALS

Washington, February 23.—(AP)—For the first time since the joint congressional Muscle Shoals commission recommended sale of the government property to the Associated Southern Power companies, the senate today agreed to consider the proposal. It will come up for two hours' discussion on Friday, but without opportunity for a final vote.

The senate agreed to a request by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, to call up the proposal shortly after congress had been notified by Governor Graves, of Alabama, that his state proposed "to claim and assert" its interest in Muscle Shoals and that part of the Tennessee river within the state boundaries. The letter, advising that the legislature had created a Muscle Shoals commission, was made public by Speaker Longworth and read in the senate at the request of Senator Harrison.

Requests Hearing.

Governor Graves also requested a hearing before the house military committee, which Acting Chairman James said would be accorded him either Friday or Saturday. The committee today heard Representative Allgood, democrat, Alabama, in support of his proposal to have the government operate the property for a term of five or ten years for manufacture of fertilizer and nitrates and distribution of surplus power.

Harrison's request to call up the power companies' offer was agreed to when he eliminated from it a provision which would have called for a final vote at the end of the two hours' debate. Senator Norris, republican, Nebraska, objected to that feature, as did Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, and Underwood, democrat, Alabama. Underwood also expressed opposition to the Norris resolution for creation of another congressional Shoals commission, the Alabama declaring congress should act and cease its deliberations.

Government Operation. Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, reiterated his contention that the government should operate the property to determine the feasibility of producing nitrates and fertilizers. For five or six years, he said, "we have been dicker with private bidders who have shown they want at least $700,000,000 of the people's property at the outset before they undertake to keep in an undetermined degree to the purposes to which the property was dedicated," in the national defense act.

"Unless we operate the shoals," he said, "and demonstrate whether we can manufacture nitrates and fertilizers, we have broken faith with the people."

In his letter Governor Graves gave notice "on the intention of the duly constituted authorities of the state to undertake to protect and preserve the right of the state of Alabama as the commission's investigation may reveal. The state gives further notice of its intention to claim and to assert Alabama's interest in the dam and Muscle Shoals, Alabama's ownership of the bed, shores and water of that part of the Tennessee river within the state of Alabama as well as its ownership of the power heretofore developed and hereafter to be developed at Muscle Shoals."

ALLEGED HOLD UP MAN IS CAPTURED

by a railroad worker named Smith, of 1315 Lucille street, and H. B. Nobles, of 1327 Latham street, together with several others who had joined in the chase, they held him until the arrival of Traffic Officer W. H. Chatman, stationed at Five points, who made the arrest.

Carried Pistol. When Wilson was searched at police station an automatic pistol and $32.50 were found on his person. When he ran through the lobby of the Kimball house, and was seen to stumble, another person, who police believe was a confederate, was observed near him and it is thought the remainder of the $104 said to be missing from the store, might have been passed to him.

After being questioned at police station for several hours by Detectives J. M. Austin and H. W. Armstrong, late Wednesday night Wilson confessed to the Five Points robbery, according to the officers, stating that the job was planned and completed by him alone.

Wilson, during the examination, stated that he had served three years and four months in Sing Sing prison on Ossining, N. Y., following conviction on a highway robbery charge, according to the police. He was paroled and later sent back to complete his term in the state penitentiary at Philadelphia with a quantity of alleged stolen "dope," the officers stated.

Came Here Recently.

The officers also learned that Wilson recently came to this city from Jacksonville, Fla., and registered at a downtown hotel Monday and Tuesday night under the name of Harvey. When questioned regarding his whereabouts Wednesday morning and afternoon, Wilson stated that he met a stranger in a poolroom during the early afternoon and the two went to the stranger's house for a "dice game." Wilson said, according to the officers, he lost heavily and left the house, but did not know the address. He planned, he said, to rob a shoe store on Decatur street, but after he found it was closed, went to the Newark shoe store and robbed it.

Wilson claimed that he lost all but $3.37 in the dice game and did not know exactly how much was won in the robbery. When searched at police station, $30 was found in one of his pockets and $3.37 was found in another, police stated.

Like Duffree Case. The robbery was staged under conditions almost exactly similar to that which stirred Atlanta at Christmas

Flag Given Winners in School Contest To Compile Names of 'Unknown Soldiers'

Priest, Rabbi and Minister Join in Formulating Prayer

URBANA, ILL., CHURCHMEN COOPERATE

Urbana, Ill., February 23.—(AP)—Rabbi, priest and minister have co-operated in formulating a prayer acknowledging the kinship of the faiths and the common fatherhood of God.

It was published at its author, the Rev. John A. O'Brien, pastor of St. John's Catholic church; Rabbi Benjamin Frankel, director of Hill foundation, and the Rev. James C. Baker, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, all of Urbana.

The prayer:

"Almighty God: We who are members of different races and faiths desire together Thy fatherhood and our kinship with each other. In our difference we find that many of our hopes, our fears, our aspirations are one. Thou art our Father and we are Thy children."

"We are heartily sorry for the misdeeds of fear, envy, hatred, suspicion and greed which have blinded our eyes and thrust us asunder. May the light that comes from Thee scatter these misdeeds, cleanse our hearts and give health to our spirits, teach us to put away all bitterness and walk together in the ways of human friendship."

"Open our eyes to see that as nature abounds in variation, so differences in human beings make for richness in the common life. May we give honor where honor is due—regardless of color or circumstances. Deepen our respect for unlikeness and our eagerness to understand one another. Through the deeper unities of the spirit in sympathy, in sight and cooperation may we transcend our differences, may we gladly share with each other our best gifts and together seek for a human world fashioned in good under Thy guidance. Amen."

Bullet Puts Final Period On Society Man's Love Note

FIRES FATAL SHOT AFTER TENDER MESSAGE TO BRIDE

Chicago, February 23.—(AP)—The ink of his final words of love and guidance for his young bride hardly dry, George F. Porter, 45, wealthy society man, prominent in republicanism, ended his life today with a bullet through his head. Porter, the former Miss de Marigny, waited for him at his downtown office ready to join him at noon for a trip to New York, whence they were to sail for London.

For approximately four years Porter had suffered from a complication of illness and only a few days ago returned from Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, where he had been advised to go to London and place himself under the care of a specialist.

"Never blame yourself," he wrote to his wife, "this fate was on me... the inevitable conclusion of a twisted life. Here I write and plan several years ago when Frank Duffree, boy bandit, held up the Kiser jewelry company on Peachtree street immediately adjacent to the Kimball House entrance, shot and killed Billy Walker, a detective on duty in the store; rushed through the Kimball House lobby, shooting B. Graham West, city controller, as he went, and escaped through the Decatur street entrance of the Kimball House.

Duffree was tracked through a girl who lived in a downtown hotel to Chattanooga, where he pawned a valuable diamond ring he had secured in the robbery, and was arrested after having been at liberty about two months while calling at the general delivery window of the Detroit post office.

He was returned to Atlanta, tried and sentenced to death by hanging as punishment for his crime. The trial was attended by widespread interest, the youth of the city winning him many sympathizers. Despite thousands of pleas in his behalf, however, no clemency was extended and he was hanged in Fulton tower while a vast crowd of curious-minded thronged about the prison.

Gasoline Station Robbed. With hundreds of motorists passing and a number of pedestrians on the sidewalk, two unidentified negro bandits calmly walked into a gasoline filling station at Edgewood avenue and North Jackson street, held up C. A. Hulsey, the manager, and robbed the cash register of $190 early Wednesday night, according to police reports. The two escaped in a light coupe.

The bandits, according to information given Call Officers W. A. Adams and H. P. Sibley, parked their car on Jackson street, slipped into the filling station and covered Hulsey with a pistol before he could reach his own gun. While one of the negroes held Hulsey at the point of the pistol, the other robbed the cash register of its contents and then took a 38-caliber pistol from a desk drawer. The two of them sped away in the waiting automobile, police were told.

After being furnished with a good description of the bandits, police stated that they answered the description of bandits who have been terrorizing residents in the vicinity of the city water works for the past two months.

Mr. Baxter took an active interest in church and fraternal affairs. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, a member of Georgia lodge F. and A. M., and the Yarnab temple of the Shrine, and also a member of the chamber of commerce.

On January 28, his last birthday, Mr. Baxter was presented with a

HOME PRODUCTS REQUIRE 53 CARS

Blakely, Ga., February 23.—(Special)—A special train, consisting of 53 cars, containing only Early county products, left Blakely this afternoon at 5 o'clock. The train was made up of 11 cars cattle, six cars of hogs, eight cars of cottonseed, 12 cars of cotton. The other 16 cars were filled with lumber, cross ties and stable fertilizer. The approximate value of the products on the train was set at $75,000.

The train left here all dressed up with decorations and placards and the need of preachers who will "preach the Bible as our fathers believed it."

The Rev. J. B. Epperson, of Boynton, Fla., preached the annual sermon. Bishop Hurst was assisted in the holy communion services by Bishop W. T. Vernon, of Detroit, Mich.

The bishop in his address stressed the need of a better understanding between the races of the south, and the need of preachers who will "preach the Bible as our fathers believed it."

PUPILS NARROWLY ESCAPE STORM

Millen, Ga., February 23.—(Special)—Forty-five children and two teachers narrowly escaped death this afternoon when a cyclone completely wrecked the Oak Hill school, five miles from Millen.

The two teachers, Misses Flora Vickery and Rennie Drinkard, saw the approaching storm and dismissed school 15 minutes early. The majority of the pupils had not gotten out of hearing when the entire building was demolished by the cyclone. Tac books and desks are a complete loss, as the building has been leveled to the ground. Heavy rains accompanied the storm.

Within a mile of the school all the outbuildings of J. A. Lightfoot were stripped of their coverings and scores of large pines were uprooted. No further damage has been reported and no one was injured.

Red-Headed Women Best, Doctor Says

Cleveland, Ohio, February 23.—The red-headed woman is more dependable than her blonde and brunette sisters, asserts Dr. C. L. Holland, of Fairmont, W. Va., who learned about women during 20 years of treating their ailments.

Here to attend the convention of the American College of Physicians, Dr. Holland gave an analysis of female types, based on the color of their hair. Here is a report of his findings:

Blonde: Clinging vine type; very affectionate, maybe deeply emotional, perhaps; sentimental, not assertive; passive; spoony.

Brunette: Aggressive, assertive; snappy eyes; alert; peppy; snappy; vivacious; dependable; temperamental; full of pep, initiative and vigor; acute sense of humor; in short, everything her blonde and brunette sisters are and a little bit more.

"Constancy typifies the red head," Dr. Holland said. "Blondes are fickle, sometimes dizzy. Brunettes are inclined to be vamps."

But the red heads? Ah, they are dependable," he added.

Dr. Holland said he was so fond of red heads that he couldn't understand why he had married a brunette.

LOUISVILLE SCHOOL VISITED BY L. B. EVANS

Louisville, Ga., February 23.—(Special)—Lawton B. Evans, educator and author, and for the past 45 years superintendent of schools of Augusta and Richmond county, was a visitor in Louisville today, upon invitation of the Parent-Teacher association of the Louisville school.

He made an interesting and instructive address at the school auditorium on the subject of "Trees." Mr. Evans is deeply interested in the conservation of the forests, and other natural resources as well. But, above all, he thinks that Georgia and America's greatest asset is its children.

Mr. Evans was guest of the Louisville Kiwanis club at the regular luncheon and made a talk to the club members on education. He quoted facts and figures on education and made an appeal for the education of the child of today.

Out-of-Town Weddings Focus Attention of Society Today

Society's cordial interest is divided between two brilliant weddings which will be solemnized today, both taking place in distant cities. A number of prominent Atlantans will be found in the large assemblages which will witness both ceremonies.

At 8 o'clock this evening Miss Kathleen Hagood will become the bride of E. Smythe Gambrell in historic old St. Michael's Episcopal church in Charleston, S. C. Following the ceremony an informal reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Rhett, life-long friends of the Hagoods.

Savannah society will assemble at 8:30 o'clock this evening in the name of lovely Miss Eleanor Hazlehurst Reid and Bruce Sams, of Atlanta, who will be married in the Independent Presbyterian church in Savannah. A brilliant reception will follow the ceremony, taking place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Reid, at 526 East Forty-first street.

Both brides will be charming additions to Atlanta's young matron contingent, Miss Hagood having already won for herself a wide circle of friends during the residence of her parents, General and Mrs. Johnson Hagood, at Fort McPherson.

A distinguished visitor in the city today is Mrs. Clarence G. Anderson, of Savannah, president of the Georgia Society of Colonial Dames. She is the guest of Mrs. George M. Brown, who is the vice president of the Georgia society. Mrs. Brown with her sister, Mrs. W. R. Hoyt, will be hostess at a tea honoring Mrs. Anderson at her home on Muscogee road this afternoon. The Atlanta society of the Colonial Dames have been invited to meet Mrs. Anderson.

Helen Gould Auxiliary Celebrates Birthday.

The Helen Gould auxiliary of the Pittsburgh Lee camp, United Spanish War veterans, celebrated the birthday of George Washington Tuesday evening at the Kimball House. American flags and fragrant spring flowers adorned the parlors, where the following program was rendered: Violin duet, by Miss Elizabeth Norris and Miss Mae Bullock; Colonel John P. Hanson's address of welcome; groups of songs by Preston H. Epps, Dr. R. C. Stauffer, pastor of First Christian church, delivered the patriotic address; violin solo by Miss Elizabeth Norris, accompanied by Miss Daniels at the piano.

Mr. and Mrs. Wardlaw Are Bridge Hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Wardlaw were hosts of a Valentine bridge party last week at their home on Boulevard. The color scheme of red and white and suggestions of Valentine were used in the decorations, mints and roses. Favors were red hearts with a fortune on each.

The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Kimberley, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Vignaux, Helen Cook and Mr. McKeown, and Mr. and Mrs. Wardlaw.

Special Attention to Fitting

Even a properly made shoe must be fitted right if it is to give satisfactory comfort and service.

Cantilever Shoe

It is designed to fit the foot accurately, in walking as well as in repose. Room for the toes to extend, without crowding. Flexible arch allows muscles to function freely.

The lines of the Cantilever correspond closely to those of the foot. The flexibility of the arch makes it anatomically adjusted to the variations in that part of the foot.

By careful fitting of such a shoe, each customer is assured of just the right size for the most enjoyable comfort.

And the Cantilever shoe looks as well as it feels, which we will be glad to show you without any obligation on your part.

Now keep fresh, charming under hygienic handcap—new way provides true security—discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND
Registered Nurse

THE uncertainty and insecurity of the old-time "sanitary pad" has been ended. Scientific protection now supplants it.

Wear sheer gowns, keep up with social and business requirements, at all times... without handcap.

"KOTEX" is a new and remarkable way... five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads.

You discard it like tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment. Absorbs and deodorizes at the same time. Thus ending all fear of offending.

You get it at any drug or department store simply by saying "KOTEX." There's only one... only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex. Women ask for it without hesitancy.

Comes 12 in a package. Proves old ways an unnecessary risk. Try Kotex.

Oglethorpe Board Is Entertained By Mrs. Conklin

Detailed reports from various chairmen and officers and the very delightful hospitality of Mrs. Charles Conklin, who entertained the members of the Woman's board of Oglethorpe university Wednesday afternoon at her home on Peachtree street, made the mid-winter session of the board more than usually interesting. The meeting was well attended.

Mrs. E. Rivers, president of the board, conducted the meeting, calling on each of the chairmen in turn. The treasurer's report and that of the chairman on pledges showed that the board is receiving, as usual, the voluntary contributions with which the work of the board is financed entirely. Attention was called to the fact that many of the members had not yet sent in their contributions, although they have indicated their intention of so doing.

Resources for Year. Of the estimated resources for the year, $750 has been set aside for improving the new area in the campus between the older buildings and Lowry Memorial hall, now nearing completion. Seventy-five dollars was set aside for library expansion and $85 was apportioned to the girls' basketball team.

Mrs. Henry Porter, chairman of library extension, expressed her appreciation of the amount apportioned to the library but called attention to the fact that this was about half the amount required and requested and urged the members to supplement it either by gifts of books or money.

Reports were made by Mrs. Frank Imman, new chairman of grounds, who told briefly of her hopes and plans for making necessary improvements; by Mrs. James T. Conklin, hospital chairman, who enumerated infirmity needs and emphasized the point that Oglethorpe's health record was most gratifying; by Mrs. Charles Conklin, chairman for the girls' work, who is now completing her committee and who this year donated the basketball sweaters to the girls' team; and by Mrs. John K. Otley, chairman of finance.

Mrs. Otley presented resolutions as follows from the executive committee: an expression of interest in the new book by Dr. Thorne Jacobs, just published by the University Press at Oglethorpe, which is an expression of pleasure in the fact that Mrs. Corra Harris, the first woman to receive a degree from Oglethorpe, had recently received the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from Rollins college, Florida; a resolution expressing affection for Mrs. James M. High, because of the deep interest she has always shown in Oglethorpe university, as well as pride in her notable contributions to the cultural life of the city and state. These resolutions were unanimously passed.

Mrs. Homes Jones, of Norcross; Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, president of the Atlanta Women's club, and Mrs. Norman Sharp, were presented as special guests. Each responded briefly to the introductory remarks.

Mrs. Porter spoke of the new members of the board, told of her deep interest in the work.

Avondale B. Y. P. U. Is Entertained.

The senior B. Y. P. U. of the Avondale Baptist church was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Freeman at a George Washington party. Mrs. L. D. Shelton assisted in the entertaining.

The guests wore fancy costumes and the patriotic idea was artistically carried out in the patriotic decorations interspersed with cut spring flowers of many hues. The prize for the most attractive costume was given to Miss Celestia Osborn.

Several interesting games appropriate to the occasion were played. The guests were also favored with Mrs. "Tall Tale Heart," rendered with dramatic effects by Rev. Adiel Jarrett Moncrief, Jr.

The guests included: Miss Mildred Lee, Miss Edith Hart, Miss Celestia Osborn, Miss Lois Rawlings, Miss Nancy Ford, Miss Olivia Osborn, Miss Mary Mosely, Miss Estelle Bryan, Miss Lizzie Raine, Miss Estelle Head, Miss Doris Soussamon, Miss Lenora Mosely, Miss Linnie Raine, Miss Montine Harbin, Miss McEntire, L. C. Bennett, Carl Robinson, Rev. Adiel Jarrett Moncrief, Jr., H. T. Clegg, Howard Bennett, Roy Robinson, Floyd Harbin, Howard Giffin, Paul Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Freeman.

Mrs. Prince Webster Gives Bridge-Tea.

Mrs. Prince Webster's bridge-tea Wednesday afternoon, given at her home on Wesley road, was in compliment to Miss Pam Johnston, debutante daughter of Mrs. Richard W. Johnston, and Miss Linda Walker, of Norfolk, Va., guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Chipley. Peach and plum blossoms were arranged throughout the apartments, and Jonquills and roses were placed upon the table and mantels. The guests included 12 friends of the two honorees.

Joseph LeConte Given Birthday Party by Aunt

Joseph N. LeConte was honored at a birthday party Wednesday evening by his aunt, Mrs. James T. Williams, at her home on Piedmont road. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock and following that bridge was played.

The home was artistically decorated throughout, a color note of red being carried out. George Washington favors and decorations were effectively used. The table in the dining room held as a central decoration a bowl of red carnations and white snowdrops. A beautifully frosted birthday cake, decorated with red cherries, was placed at one end of the table and cut during the evening, the guests drawing the favors baked in the cake.

Miss Lillian LeConte and Miss Nibset LeConte assisted their mother in entertaining the guests, who included 15 girls from Agnes Scott college, where Miss Lillian LeConte is a student, and 15 young men from Emory university, where Mr. LeConte is a student. Miss Lillian LeConte wore a lovely gown of peach-colored satin, elaborately beaded. Miss Nibset LeConte was dressed in white tulle and made bouffant style, the full skirt edged with white tulle and trimmed with French flowers.

"First prize for the girls was a lovely corsage bouquet and first prize for the boys was a knife. The girls' consolation prize was a doris, and a box of cigars was given as a consolation prize for the boys.

Miss Turner Weds Mr. Trezevant, Of Tampa, Fla.

A wedding of interest to a host of friends throughout this and adjoining states was that of Miss Cora Adelaide Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augustus Turner, of this city, to James Cain Trezevant, of Tampa, Fla., which took place at All Saints Episcopal church at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, February 23.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Memminger, pastor of the church, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

Just before the ceremony Miss Turner, sister of the bride, wore a dress of orchid georgette, heavily embroidered in silver, with hat to match, and wore a shoulder corsage of sweet peas and roses.

Mrs. Hubert C. Drummond, sister of the bride, and matron-of-honor, was dressed in French blue chiffon and lace, with picture hat of the same shade. She carried an arm bouquet of pastel-tinted sweet peas.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Robert Gilchrist Trezevant, of Tampa, brother of the groom. The bride wore a suit of tan crepe, Romaine hat and accessories to match. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Augustus Turner, of this city, who formerly made their home in Virginia. The groom is a young man of marked ability, who is prominent in the business and social life of Tampa.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a brief wedding trip, after which they will be at home to their friends on Longfellow avenue, Sunset Park, Tampa.

Mrs. Ledford Given Anniversary Tea.

Mrs. C. H. Ledford was honored by her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Burdell, at a beautifully appointed anniversary tea February 16 at the home of Mrs. C. H. Ledford, 232 W. 11th.

The reception room was most attractive with a profusion of fragrant hyacinths, narcissi and jonquils.

Mrs. Burdell wore a becoming afternoon frock of flowered georgette. Mrs. Ledford's gown was of tan georgette and Mrs. Rawlins wore a lovely costume of rose crepe.

Those who met Mrs. Ledford were Mrs. Ed Baggett, Mrs. B. L. Flanagan, Mrs. Paul Beavers, Mrs. J. O. Chambers, Mrs. A. W. Falkenburg, Mrs. Joe Flint, Mrs. John Frank, Mrs. M. P. Gaines, Mrs. Murray Hay, Mrs. Ed Lippett, Mrs. Fred Lippett, Mrs. D. G. Mosher, Mrs. Mark Lankford, Mrs. Horace Presson, Mrs. W. J. Patten, Mrs. E. W. Oliver, Mrs. A. E. Newton; Mrs. Hal Davidson will read "The Musical program will be in charge of Mrs. Charles Downman who will give two piano selections entitled "Etude in D flat" by Liszt and "La Gondolier."

Mrs. Waggoner Is Given Shower.

A delightfully informal affair of Monday afternoon was the "shower" with which circle nine of the Second Baptist church Woman's Missionary society of which Mrs. Bertha McGinty is chairman, complimented Mrs. Oscar Waggoner, a recent bride and junior member of this circle, who was formerly Miss Mary Jordan.

At the close of the devotional and business session which was held in one of the class rooms of the church, the presentation of the gifts took place as a surprise to the recipient. Mr. and Mrs. Waggoner reside at 1125 Luckie avenue where they are at home to their friends.

Many Newspaper Men To See Bey Interred Alive

Prominent newspaper representatives from southern cities will come to Atlanta Monday to witness a demonstration of self-imposed catalepsy, which will be made at Piedmont park at noon Monday by Hamid Bey, Egyptian "miracle man" who is coming to Atlanta next week as the headline attraction on the vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand theater. Hamid Bey will be buried alive at noon in Piedmont park in the presence of a committee of physicians and will give the same demonstration here that he staged recently in New York, which created a sensation in that city.

Arrangements for the strange demonstration have been completed by Manager Thomas H. James, of Loew's Grand theater. Hamid Bey will be buried in a grave six feet deep. His ears, nose and mouth will be plugged with cotton. He will be wrapped in three heavy blankets and placed in a sealed grave. Dry sand will be thrown over his body for a distance of three feet. Planks will be placed across the grave three feet down and the remainder of the grave will be filled with dirt. The planks are used to support the earth to prevent it from crushing the body of the miracle worker.

Hamid Bey, through the assistance of Zulficer Effendi and Professor Victor Bartoloni, will go into a cataleptic state and while in this state will be buried alive. In his New York demonstration he remained in the grave for two hours and fifty-two minutes without breathing.

Hamid Bey, through the assistance of Zulficer Effendi and Professor Victor Bartoloni, will go into a cataleptic state and while in this state will be buried alive. In his New York demonstration he remained in the grave for two hours and fifty-two minutes without breathing.

An electric buzzer will be placed in the grave so the Egyptian can signal to watchers outside if he needs assistance during the demonstration.

Newspapers which will send representatives to Atlanta are the New Orleans Item, the Memphis Commercial Appeal and the Birmingham Post.

Ferry Turner, director of publicity for Loew's incorporated, of New York, will make a special trip to Atlanta to witness the feat. The only demonstration to be given in the south by Hamid Bey will be the demonstration he gives in Piedmont park.

Atlanta city officials, Atlanta newspaper writers, a committee of physicians and others will witness the demonstration. It will be staged at noon Monday and will be open and free to the general public.

GOTHAM-ATLANTA AIR MAIL BID IS OPENED

The only bid for the New York-Atlanta overnight air-mail contract was that of the Piteairn Aviation company, of Philadelphia, offering to carry the mail for $3 per pound, including equipment, according to advice Wednesday from Washington following the expiration of the time limit for submitting bids.

Decision of the postoffice department on the bid has been reserved, and will be announced later, it was stated. If the Piteairn bid is accepted, 30 days will be allowed in which to execute the formal contract, and service will begin as soon thereafter as possible.

Officials of the Piteairn company were visitors to Atlanta a month ago, going over the proposed New York-Atlanta service with local air-mail enthusiasts.

One and two pieces, the new dresses with cardigan jackets, box pleated skirts, stitched half way, dainty collars and cuffs, leather belts.

So many people confuse Opportunity Day with a disposal of odd lots and so forth. This is not necessarily so. Take these dresses, for instance—bought last week in New York, made up, indeed, at our order, for Opportunity Day. As such, they are the very mintage of Spring and the coinage of the new mode.

While youth is served in a number of styles—irresponsible wisps of silks—there are numbers and numbers of charming things for older women. In other words, the occasion is all-inclusive.

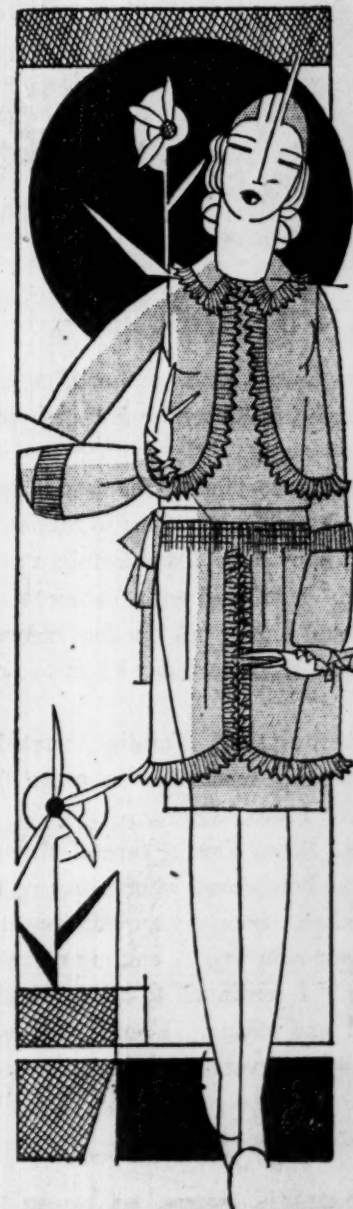

Therefore, remember, a startling and spectacular Sale of Spring dresses for all women. 250 of them—every one new. Wide selection of fabrics. All the new colors.

When we say, as we do in the heading, that these dresses are worth $25, $29.50 to $35, we mean it. You are invited to test the statement by your own knowledge of values and by comparisons.

Miss Rogers Weds Fleming Law At Beautiful Church Ceremony

Exquisite beauty featured the wedding ceremony of Miss Margaret Rogers and Fleming Law, which was a beautiful social event of Wednesday evening, taking place at 8:30 o'clock at the St. Mark Methodist Episcopal church on Peachtree street. The beautiful marriage service was read by the Rev. Dr. W. L. Quillian, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. W. Duren. During the assembling of the guests, Miss Edna Bartholomew, church organist, and Charles Wynne, soloist, gave an appropriate program of music. Miss Bartholomew played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" at the approach of the bride party.

The pulpit of the handsome church was flanked by palms, ferns and many foliage plants, this background of greenery extending to the choir railings. Huge urns filled with Aspidistra lilies graced either side of the altar and adorning the altar was a cluster of the lilies with a shower of valley lilies falling to the floor. The chancel and choir railings were garlanded with ropes of southern smilax, while seven-branched candelabra holding burning white tapers illuminated the beautiful decorations. Bouquets of Aspidistra lilies tied with wide white satin ribbons marked the pews reserved for the families of the young couple. In the corners of the church and the front vestibule palms and ferns were arranged.

Wedding Attendants. The bridesmaids, Misses Virginia Ashe and Venice Mayson, entered first. They wore orchid-colored tulle gowns fashioned in the period style. The close-fitting bodices were trimmed with clusters of French flowers. The bouffant skirts were finished around the bottom with a wide hem of tulle in a matching shade. They carried bouquets of pink and blue sweetpeas, snapdragons and roses, the colors of pink and blue predominating.

Mrs. Joel Chandler Harris, Jr., the groom's cousin, was master of honor. She entered alone wearing a gown of palest green tulle fashioned similar to the bridesmaids'. Her bouquet was of lilies, roses and freesias, the lavender and yellow shades predominating. The maid of honor, Miss Harriet Noyes, also entered alone. She wore a costume of peach-colored tulle fashioned like those worn by the bridesmaids. She carried a bouquet of roses, sweetpeas, snapdragons and lilies, blue being the outstanding shade.

The little flower girls, Misses Mary Ella Rogers and Frances Sprattin, entered together. They wore quaint figures wearing flesh-colored tulle frocks, which were replicas of those worn by the bridesmaids. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of varicolored sweetpeas and roses.

The groomsmen entered in pairs and included Joel Chandler Harris, Jr., Herbert Dean, of Gainesville, Ga.; Ashley Taylor, and Kerfoot Hancock.

The beautiful young bride descended the aisle with her father, LeRoy E. Rogers, and they were joined at the altar by the groom and Frank Sprattin, who acted as best man. The bride's exquisite brunette beauty was increased by her bridal gown of ivory satin, which was also a period model. A voke of real lace trimmed the tight bodice, the design of the lovely lace being outlined with an embroidery of tiny pearls. Real lace also formed the bouffant drapery of the graceful skirt and the lace was again introduced at the bottom on either side of the skirt. The satin front of the skirt was embroidered in bowknits of seed pearls as well as the back panel of satin. Attached to her shoulders was a court train of white satin lined with flesh-colored chiffon. A delicate flesh-colored tulle veil fell from a coronet of real lace and extended the length of the train. Small sprays of orange blossoms held the veil in place at the back of the head, ending in tiny clusters on either side. The bride's bouquet was a gorgeous shower of valley lilies and palest pink orchids.

Mrs. LeRoy Rogers, the bride's mother, was handsomely gowned in flesh-colored crepe with silver trimmings and she wore a shoulder bouquet of orchids and valley lilies.

Elaborate Reception. Following the marriage service, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers entertained at an elaborate reception at the East Lake Country club. They were assisted in receiving by the bride and groom and DeLacy Law, of Gainesville, Ga., the groom's father, and Colonel and Mrs.

Miss Edna Farmer Weds J. E. Andrews At Quiet Ceremony

Interest accompanies the announcement of the wedding of Miss Edna Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Farmer, and Jack Edward Andrews, Jr., which took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 307 Atwood street. The Rev. Dr. Marion A. Franklin, pastor of the Park Street Methodist church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed only by the immediate families.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Andrews left for a wedding trip to Montgomery, Ala., but will later make their home with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Griffin at Stone Mountain, Georgia.

To Be Honored. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will return from their wedding trip today and will be honored at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Andrews, Sr., at their home, 530 E. Duane street, S. W., this evening at 6 o'clock.

Invited to meet them will be Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Farmer, Miss Mary Farmer, Mrs. George W. Farmer, Mrs. Clarence Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Griffin, of Stone Mountain, Ga.; Henry Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Andrews, of Montgomery, Ala.

H. H. Dean, of Gainesville, Ga. They received the guests at the spacious living room before the fireplace. The entire downstairs was beautifully decorated with a profusion of spring flowers in the pastels and combined with smilax, ferns and palms.

During the evening the bride and groom left for a wedding trip east, including a stay in the Adirondacks, where they will enjoy the winter sports at Lake Placid. The bride's traveling costume was a tailored model of navy blue crepe and she wore a small hat of black satin and straw trimmed with a rhinestone ornament. She wore a top coat of brown fur. On their return, March 10, Mr. and Mrs. Law will reside at 850 Bracliff road.

Mrs. Lawlor Honors Mrs. John Stapleton.

Mrs. George J. Lawlor entertained Monday at a bridge-luncheon at the East Lake Country club in honor of Mrs. John Stapleton, of Savannah, who is the guest of Mrs. H. E. West. Brown, vice president of the Georgia society, and her sister, Mrs. William R. Hoyt, at Mrs. Brown's home on Muscogee avenue. The business meeting of the Atlanta committee of Colonial Dames, of which Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore is chairman, precedes the tea.

Mrs. Joseph Lamar, president of the national society of the Dames, will be hostess at luncheon Friday at her home on Muscogee avenue in compliment to Mrs. Anderson, and this afternoon Mrs. Robert Cotton Alston will entertain at tea at "Woodville," with Mrs. Anderson as honor guest.

Mrs. Conklin Entertains Oglethorpe Woman's Board.

The Oglethorpe Woman's board was entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Conklin at her home on Peachtree street. She was assisted in receiving by Mrs. E. Rivers, president of the board, and other officers. The board holds three meetings each year, two business sessions and one social meeting, and the social meeting provides a splendid opportunity for the members to renew their acquaintance with university activities.

Many Guests Gather At Decatur Club Tea.

The regular fourth Wednesday club tea was given at the Decatur Woman's club on Ponce de Leon avenue February 23, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. E. L. Gardner, chairman of the civic division, and Mrs. Leon O'Neal, co-chairman, and their committee were hostesses.

Baskets and bowls of early spring blossoms decorated the auditorium and the refreshments carried out the George Washington idea. A number of club members and friends entertained guests on this occasion. Mrs. Marshall George had five tables of guests. Mrs. Henry Jewett was hostess to the members of the Symeon street club. Mrs. J. P. Laird entertained 16 guests; Miss Virginia Mason was hostess at a delightful party of five tables; Mrs. E. J. Dewyer entertained 16 guests; Mrs. Charles Bothwell had one table; Mrs. J. C. Johnson entertained a table of guests, and Mrs. Frank Kroner was hostess at one table.

Mrs. Muldrow Honors Mrs. Walton Blackford.

Mrs. Walton Blackford, of Springfield, Mass., an attractive February visitor, was honor guest at the tea given Wednesday afternoon by her sister, Mrs. Louis Muldrow, at her home on Montgomery Ferry road.

A bowl holding jonquils and lavender sweet peas adorned the center of the lace-covered silver table. Silver candlesticks, holding yellow candles, encircled the centerpiece alternating with silver compotes filled with yellow and white mints.

Mrs. Lonsberg Weds Sam Strauss.

Sam Strauss, of the Consolidated Sales system, and Mrs. Gertrude Lonsberg, of Boulevard, N. E., were married in Birmingham Monday, February 21, at Temple Emanuel. Mr. and Mrs. Strauss will spend a few days at the Tutweiler in Birmingham, and then take a trip through Florida.

"Baby Peggy" Prizes Awarded at Appears at Matinee Military Bridge At Howard Theater Club Luncheon

The real Baby Peggy, she of the straight black bob and roguish eyes, will greet the children at the regular Saturday matinee at 9:30 o'clock at the Howard theater, through the courtesy of Montgomery Hill, divisional head of the Public corporation, and Manager Eggleston, of the Georgia theater, where the little star is appearing this week in vaudeville. Admission, 10 cents for children, and 25 cents for adults.

Baby Peggy is undoubtedly a drawing card for the Saturday matinee, since the mere announcement of one of her pictures is sufficient for a capacity house. In addition to her last picture to be screened, "Helen's Babies," and a Baby Peggy resemblance contest, the program will include Peggy in person. Everybody is asked to have the proper change Saturday. The box office will open at 8:30 o'clock, and the program will start at 9:30.

Everyone who resembles Baby Peggy is invited to take part in the resemblance contest, and assemble in the front lobby of the Howard before 9:30 o'clock, there to receive a card from Mrs. Newton Wing, matinee chairman, admitting them to the contest. They will go up to the stage for the judging, and compete for the prize awarded by the little star herself, a big signed photograph.

Another popular number on the program is an "Our Gang" comedy, "Shottin' Injuns." A number of seats will be reserved for children from the Scottish Rite hospital, who will be the guests of the better films committee. Ten chaperones, under Mrs. John G. Courtney, chairman; 10 Boy and 10 Girl Scouts will assist in seating the children and in taking care of those who come unaccompanied. Mrs. Frank McCormack, better films president; Mrs. Abner Richardson, matineer, and Mrs. John W. Lloyd, P. T. A. chairman, will assist in receiving Saturday.

Dilettante Club Honors Miss Near.

The members of the Dilettante club honored Miss Arcadia Near, lovely bride-elect of Saturday, at the next meeting Wednesday which gathered a group of friends who met for bridge, followed by luncheon, with Mrs. Thomas C. Lockland, Jr., as hostess at her apartment on Piedmont avenue. Miss Janie Near was also a special guest.

The guests were Miss Arcadia Near, Miss Janie Near and the members of the club, Miss Evelyn Donohoe, Miss Leila Elder, Miss Louise Smith, Mrs. Charles Elyen, Mrs. Guy Carmichael, Mrs. Augustus Roan, Mrs. J. B. Carson and Mrs. Lockland.

BY VIRGINIA TRACY.

INSTALLMENT XXVIII.
LELAND IS DISCHARGED.

LELAND IS DISCHARGED. "I'm going to get a divorce from Leland," he could marry Dulcie. He had told his father that if this was the only way to keep Dulcie from handing him the ha-ha before everybody was to marry her, he would do it. After all, there was some snap in landing a woman who was that hard to land! He hadn't expected it, of course, in the beginning—not nowadays, when everybody knows that girls do as they please. Besides her being an actress. And a motion picture actress. And her father's papa's. Why, as the son of a motion picture producer he assuredly had a right to marry a motion picture actress. And she was an actress! Particularly in the home team! And particularly when they were getting themselves talked about with an old married Turk of a sheik! But no matter. Marriage didn't grouch so big to him now. In fact, he was getting rather keen on it. Only Svengali—

Today, for instance, there was the Lady Lyman wanted to have looking after Dulcie sent away, not so much as to have her marry all heretog's was echoing with her. "What a waste of it matter so long as I have you?"
 And, after one of the Cy-pre-ann's listenings in, hadn't she reported an outcome, she had been told that she ought to have killed off papa, Dan, before he signed this contract?" To which, Leland had replied, "was that the way you thought of it?"
 "I have been just in line. It wasn't to be borne!" The general manager of heretog's behelg himself of yet another advantage he possessed over Leland.

So while the conservatory bloomed in the evang, she fishes swam and Dulcie Jayne lay resting pretty well, after all, because her nerves knew that she was safe. The world of Caper Leland, when she had a big scene coming, nothing could get at her; because the scenario department bubbled up the scenes, and she was to work, and while Cornelia read and reported, reported and read; yet, with her face toward the Rubicon, still having the world of Caper Leland whose touch thrills "follow not" and saw at last, within reach of weary eyes, the towers of Rome. Lyman didn't look round the world of Caper Leland, and she started question, and then, blanching a little, continued taking dictation. For the hand that holds the pen, took round the world of Caper Leland. The news was held back, by Lyman's orders, till just after seven when Leland, with Dulcie Jayne at his heels, had ceased making his last tour of the studio. The extras were waiting on the set, when the first brief scene was in rehearsal, so that the electricians were ready to light the scene. When General Rosenkrantz was holding the pul of the technical expert at attention for the word, "Camera!" It was then that Lyman, with a slip of the tongue, reading in with the note, told Leland to read it at once.

So, for Cornelia, at that moment never came when, standing on the threshold of the Bronx flat, she could call out: "Well, mother—" with the news of Leland's promise about "Briar Rose." And others than Cornelia were upset.

The motion picture industry said: "Leland—discharged!" Discharged—discharged!—the word, the word beyond this contradiction in terms, which somehow sounded like an indecency, the motion picture industry, with its mouth open, to let lightning strike.

It struck. Everywhere everybody was asking, "And had Leland no conscience?" "No," they answered, "engaging him, were intended to be as explicit and as binding. The Hertzog lawyers admitted that Leland could bring suit. And that was all that was left to be said. If he did, Hertzog's word would reply with a counter suit, charging him with "undue influence" over its star, Dulcie Jayne."

And then, and later, lately shaken off the scenario department, had got himself appointed continuity clerk to Harry Hooley's director, so the studio was left to itself to start making out on the boat he reported to Cornelia that, in actual speech, it still considered Leland's dismissal an outrage. "I don't want to start making out," forget that Dulcie Jayne came in here tionally a new publicity department was created for her alone. To supply her with new news, she said, she caught the breath were paid for Broadway successes which were publicity in themselves. For her costumes in "Passion Pride" the studio's publicity was established with modistes, furriers, jewelers whose names were only inspiring heart throbs to, let us say, the girl who was to play the part, in which Hertzog's had furnished as per contract, was whisked away and the latest Rolls-Royce model appeared. And she showed her, too, how he could do quite otherwise with Leland.

"You can't imagine what D. K. puts up with day after day, hour after hour!" Phil reported. "Why, his every order is countermanded. Every arrangement he makes is upset—he is really to fight even for the classiest of his clients. And everybody's eyes, you understand—props taken right out of any unfinished set and handed over to other directors! Leland's name is used to make life all the while holding in his own name on an iron leash, or there'd be a rough-house in the Perfection studio that'd be the end of it."

Mr. Hertzog. When they're ruined what's left of Leland's reputation, they'll just spread themselves over the studio and ruin it. "Passion Pride." Why Leland sticks

"Pa might have suggested more than $10 for the church this time, but the committee didn't have no more sense than to tackle him while he was changin' tires."

NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY IS BEST, SAYS MOORE

Both national and local advertisers are rapidly becoming convinced that newspaper publicity is the most effective means of reaching the buying public and setting up direct contact with the consumer, according to Thomas H. Moore, associate director of the advertising bureau of the American Newspaper Publishers' association.

Mr. Moore is in Atlanta during the course of an extensive tour of southeastern cities.

"In the past 15 years national newspaper advertising has increased from $45,000,000 to $235,000,000," Mr. Moore declared, "which is good evidence of its efficiency. Last year newspapers carried local and national advertising to the amount of $800,000,000, establishing a new record."

"The newspapers of the country, with a combined circulation of more than 36,000,000, provide the best medium for producers and consumers of every commodity," Mr. Moore said, "and this form of advertising is recognized as the most direct avenue of approach to the ultimate consumer."

The bureau which Mr. Moore represents assists in the development of national advertising for newspapers throughout America, regardless of whether they are members of the association. The bureau neither recommends the use of any particular newspaper, nor accepts space orders for any paper or group of papers, its function being primarily of a "missionary" character, pointing out the most effective means of utilizing newspaper space.

Manila, February 24.—(Thursday.) (United News.)—Four blocks of business buildings in the downtown section of Manila were destroyed by fire early Thursday. The property loss was placed at $2,000,000.

GEORGIA BEST BUYER OF OWN APPLE CROP

Cornelia, Ga., February 23.—(Special.)—That the people of Georgia "know their apples" is indicated by the distribution of 315 cars of apples, grown in northeast Georgia in 1926, which were handled by the Southern railway system up to February 5.

Of this total, 271 cars were shipped to destinations in Georgia, 105 to Atlanta and the remaining 166 were distributed among 35 other points in the state. Florida took 22 cars, Alabama 13, and points in other states nine.

About 15 cars of the 1926 crop, in storage at Cornelia, are yet to move. In addition to the carload shipment there was quite a large movement of apples in less than carload freight and by express.

New Leonard Street Orphanage Holds Opening Ceremonies This Afternoon

New home of the Leonard Street Orphanage for Negroes.

Doors of the new Leonard Street Orphanage home, 39 Leonard street, recently completed at a cost of $80,000, will be thrown open from 3 to 7 o'clock this afternoon for inspection of the public and formal opening ceremonies, it was announced Wednesday by Miss Amy A. Chadwick, superintendent and treasurer.

Short programs will be given during the afternoon for the entertainment of visitors, the little orphans furnishing the last program of the day themselves. Mrs. Willie Daniels is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Construction of the new home for the sixty negro orphans, comprising the family of the Leonard Street Orphanage, was made possible by a substantial gift from a Philadelphia, Pa., philanthropist, and the gifts of numerous friends of the institution. The entire institution, including building, equipment and grounds, is valued at $80,000.

Absolutely Fireproof.
Built of brick, with concrete floors, the new home is said to be absolutely fireproof. Plenty of light and fresh air is provided by numerous large windows.

SEVEN TRAINING CAMPS
ORDERED IN 4TH AREA

Seven citizens' military training camps will be operated by the war department in the fourth corps area during the coming summer for the training of young men between the ages of 17 and 24 years. Johnson Hagood, corps area commandant announced today. The camps, three of which will be in Georgia, will open on June 15 and close on July 14, it was said.

Four thousand young men will be selected to take the training in this area, which comprises the states of Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, General Hagood said.

The army posts where these camps will be established and the number of men assigned to each camp were announced as follows: Fort Barrancas, Florida, 500 coast artillery; Fort Bragg, North Carolina, 900 field artillery; Camp McClelland, Alabama, 900 infantry; Fort McPherson, Georgia, 500 infantry; Fort Moultrie, South Carolina, 300 infantry; Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, 750 cavalry; Fort Screven, Georgia, 150 infantry.

WADE JOHNSON PLEA HEARING DATE FIXED

The appeal of Wade Johnson, of Macon, under death sentence for criminal assault on an aged Jones county woman, will be heard at the next session of the United States court of appeals, which convenes here the first Monday in October, the attorney general's office was informed Wednesday in a letter from Oakley F. Dodd, clerk of the court, at New Orleans.

Johnson was granted a stay of execution by Judge W. J. Tilson, of the federal court of the middle district of Georgia, pending settlement of the question regarding the legality of the state's electric chair law.

downs, while sufficient outlets eliminate the danger of crowding in case of an emergency. The building is two stories in height with a commodious gabled attic and a spacious basement.

There are 40 rooms in the new building, including large and airy dining halls, recreation and play rooms, and the like, while sleeping porches assure the children of plenty of fresh air, a real luxury to most of those who have come into the home from lives of squalor and poverty.

Adequate care of the 60 inmates of the home is under the charge of Miss Chadwick and a staff of three persons, who are endeavoring to build up the children physically, mentally and morally. Many cases of malnutrition are brought into the institution in newly arriving orphans, and are generally corrected under proper diet and care.

Near Spelman.
Education of the orphans is well provided for in the location of the school on property adjoining Spelman college, where inmates of school age attend.

The Leonard Street Orphanage home was established in 1880, and for the past 25 years has been under the capable administration of Miss Chadwick. Here hives are provided for homeless negro girls ranging in age from babyhood to 15 years, they are educated and taught self-reliance, and made able to earn a living when they leave the orphanage at the age of 15.

Friends of the institution are cordially welcome to visit the home today between 3 and 7 o'clock, and bring their friends, states an announcement of the opening. Those who would like to bring a small donation are invited to do so, as Miss Chadwick said, many small gifts will come in handy.

Trustees of the home are: A. F. H. doo, Peyton A. Allen, secretary; Dr. H. M. Holmes, house physician; Professor John Hope, the Rev. E. P. Johnson, S. W. Walker, the Rev. M. Ashby Jones, Miss M. Dickerson, M. J. Hemper Harrell, Eugene Black, T. J. Woodley, Mrs. W. W. Alexander, Mrs. M. Driskell, Mrs. Willie Daniels, Mrs. G. B. Leeman, Dr. A. M. Wilkins, Miss Amy A. Chadwick, and the Rev. E. T. W. W. of Montclair, N. J., Mrs. W. J. Crutcher, of Germantown, Pa., and Mrs. E. M. Hill, of Paterson, N. J.

MILAM IS NAMED CHAMBER DIRECTOR TO FILL VACANCY

Aubrey Milam, of Green & Milam, commission merchants, was elected a director of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon to fill an unexpired term on the board. He was nominated by Julian V. Boehm at the regular monthly directors' meeting.

Mr. Milam has been prominent in public service work for years and was a leader in the recent campaigns for the Community Chest and Forward Atlanta Advertising Fund campaigns.

EASTMAN OFFICIAL
CONFERS WITH ENLOW

Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, director of education for the Eastman Kodak company, will be in Atlanta today to confer with E. R. Enlow, director of visual education of Atlanta schools, and other school officials with regard to preparation of a film on cotton in this city in connection with experiments the kodak company is conducting in 12 centers of the country.

Fifty motion pictures are to be produced with the cooperation of leading educators of the country, and will be tried out in the classrooms, the results to be carefully measured.

Dr. Finegan, who formerly was state superintendent of public education for Pennsylvania, will go to Dallas for the conference of the department of superintendents of the National Education association after conferring with local school officials.

THIEVES LOOT HOUSE OF HARRY STEPHENS

Quarters of Harry Stephens, professional golfer at the Druid Hills Golf club, was raided by thieves sometime before dawn Wednesday and a large quantity of golf balls, besides several irons, are reported to have been taken.

This is the second time within a month that thieves have raided the premises of this club, it is reported.

Georgia's Confederate veterans this week will line up for the quarterly "pay call" sounded by Captain John W. Clark, state commissioner of pensions.

Checks for $457,975 will be distributed among 9,160 pensioners, it was announced at the commissioner's office.

Although the year's first quarterly payment was not due until April 1, provision was made by state officials to issue the pensions as soon as the state treasury showed a balance sufficient to make the payments, it was said. Each Confederate veteran or widow will receive a check for $50, the regular quarterly allowance.

When the state has appropriated $1,200,000 to pay pensions during 1927 this amount will be augmented by collections from the cigar and cigarette tax that was imposed for the benefit of the Confederate veterans. Last year collections from this source amounted to more than $800,000.

CAROLINA PASSES AN ANTI-MASK BILL

Raleigh, N. C., February 23.—(AP)—The North Carolina state senate today passed, without debate and without a dissenting vote, the Johnson bill for biddings masking in public by members of secret orders and providing for dissolution of organizations that keep their membership secret.

The measure was introduced in both branches of the legislature yesterday a few hours after it became known that Superior Court Judge Henry A. Grady had resigned as grand dragon of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

The house bill, introduced by Representative Oscar Haywood, was referred to a committee, although its introduction was greeted with cheers. The senate bill was sent to the house by special messenger after it had been passed under suspension of the rules.

Pygmies Are in 'Stone Age' Of Culture, Says Professor

DENIES CHARGE THEY ARE CANNIBALS

Boston, February 23.—(AP)—The Pygmies who live far in the interior of New Guinea are "in the stone age" of culture, said Professor Malinowski, of the University of London, today. Professor Malinowski, who headed the Smithsonian Institution-Dutch government expedition into Pygmyland returned on the liner President Adams with other members of the expedition.

Describing the primitive customs of the four-foot people, whom he found very friendly, he remarked that they had been falsely accused of cannibalism. The accusation he believed, arose from their methods of disposing of their dead. In some villages cremation is practiced, but in others the bodies are left exposed on a platform for some time and the bones are preserved.

Monkeys, Gorillas, Mandrills RUSSIAN TELLS OF SURPRISE ATTACK Outnumber Humans in Tibet

Moscow, Russia, February 23.—(AP)—Monkeys, gorillas and mandrills outnumber the human inhabitants of Tibet, Colonel Peter Kozloff, Russia's famous explorer, who discovered the dead city of Kharakota in a recent expedition, asserted here today. When the expedition first arrived in Tibet, he said, tribesmen professed great friendship for the Russians, but after the Russians settled in their tents the Tibetans made a surprise attack on them in the middle of the night with 450 armed horsemen.

Kozloff's sentinel gave warning to the sleeping explorers just in time, and the Russians opened fire on the attackers, killing several. After a battle lasting an hour, the tribesmen fled to the hills but before they had been driven most of the expedition's rifles and ammunition. Colonel Kozloff asserted that Tibet is covered with enormous yaks weighing 3,000 pounds whose skulls are so thick it is impossible to pierce them with ordinary bullets. Thousands of other animals roam the country and do not show the slightest fear when approached by man.

In the Kharakota region Colonel Kozloff found enormous stone figures of women called by the natives "evil females," whose clanger they said was sufficient to bring misfortune on all who approached them. Colonel Kozloff took one of these to Moscow to the immense relief of the Tibetans who declared it would rid the country of much evil.

Kozloff announced that he intended this year to excavate a mysterious ruin in Tibet containing 240 carloads of rich treasures buried by the Kharakotans when the Chinese desolated their city.

TILDER AGAIN HEADS TRADES FEDERATION

J. Sid Tilder, well known in organized labor circles in this section, was re-elected Wednesday night to the presidency of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, a post he has filled for the past 12 months. He was unopposed.

The other members of the official personnel of the federation who were elected at the annual meeting, to serve for the ensuing year are:

Fred Stephens, William Pollard, William Van Houten and A. S. Nance, recording secretary; George F. Haney, secretary; W. L. McCullay, John Scott and J. W. Cagle, finance and auditing committee; Charles B. Gramling, William Strauss and Paul Chipman, members of the board of trustees; Thomas E. Ball, sergeant-at-arms.

Miss Mary Barker, one of the best known figures of the Atlanta public school system and president of the International Teachers' association, was selected to represent the central labor body at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, to be held in Los Angeles, Calif., in October. William Pollard was named as alternate.

Seven delegates were selected to represent the Federation of Trades at the annual convention of the Georgia Federation of Labor, to be held in Savannah on April 20. They were: George F. Haney, J. Sid Tilder, A. S. Nance, William Van Houten, William Pollard, Louis P. Marquardt and Charles B. Gramling. The alternates are: W. L. McCullay, John E. Ball, E. P. Doid, William Strauss, C. E. Drake, Carl Karston and Mrs. Maud Ireland.

FALL INTO WELL FATAL TO CORPORAL AT FORT BENNING

Columbus, Ga., February 23.—(AP)—Following a post-mortem examination of the body of Corporal John R. Davis, Fort Benning soldier found in a well just outside the city yesterday afternoon, the coroner's jury investigating the case returned a verdict of accidental death.

Private James B. Eskridge, a comrade of the dead man, on whose premises Davis met his death, has been released by the military authorities who were holding him pending the result of the investigation.

According to evidence before the coroner's jury Davis had gone to the Eskridge house and remained outside the house while the latter went indoors with his wife. Fifteen minutes later Eskridge, on coming out of the house discovered the body of his friend in the well, just back of his residence. Nearby workmen were hurriedly summoned and every effort made to resuscitate Davis, but without effect.

Heavy Rains Slated To End Noon Today

Storm clouds which overcast Atlanta and yielded a precipitation of slightly more than two inches during the past 24 hours, will be on their way elsewhere before noon today and balmier spring weather will distribute its cheer throughout this district, C. F. von Herrmann, government meteorologist, declared Wednesday night.

Rainfall for the 24 hours totaled 1.68 inches, Mr. von Herrmann said. "The rainfall was not confined to Atlanta but was widespread throughout this section of the country," he said. "Indications are that Atlanta will experience intermittent showers Thursday morning with clearing skies at noon. This will be followed by a steady rain during the remainder of the day."

Due to an unusually heavy fog that blanketed the city Wednesday night, hundreds of motorists and street cars were compelled to travel in the dark to avoid possible accidents on the wet streets. Headlights were comparatively useless in many sections.

Despite the steady downpour of rain, the temperature here Wednesday, Atlanta quickly recovered from the effects of the water which drenched the city, and with the return of clear weather, all traces of the precipitation are scheduled to be erased before tonight.

The low temperature for the day was 66 degrees, the highest for Wednesday was 66, showing for the day a variance of only nine degrees from minimum to maximum. Marks of similar degree are predicted for the remainder of the week.

Other than temporary inconveniences, Atlanta fared well during the rain period, reports showed. Despite slippery pavement, traffic accidents were few, police reported. Service on only a few car lines was interrupted by heavy waters. Cars on the River line were blocked temporarily when a deep rush of water covered the tracks at Newport and Simpson streets. Passengers, however, were transferred to waiting cars on the opposite side of the blockading pool and service was maintained.

A street car was derailed at the Soldiers' Home, and a trolley car was reported. Two power lines were reported out of order but emergency "trouble shooters" repaired the breaks with little delay.

WOMAN SENTENCED TO LIFE TERM DENIED NEW TRIAL

Augusta, Ga., February 23.—(AP)—The motion for a new trial in the case of Mrs. Lillian L. McKie, of Hutchinson, Kan., convicted here last fall on the charge of murdering her husband, George A. McKie, and sentenced to life imprisonment, was denied in an order handed down by Judge A. J. Franklin, of Richmond circuit superior court here today.

Before counsel argued, following the order, that the case will be taken to the state supreme court.

PLOT TO ASSASSINATE MACHADO'S REPORTED

Key West, Fla., February 23.—Rumor that investigators in New York had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Gerardo Machado, of Cuba, and had led to the president's indefinite postponement of his trip to the United States, caused excitement in consular circles here tonight.

Cuban Consul Jorge Ponce refused to comment upon the rumor or to state the source of its origin. The instigator of the plot is said to be still at liberty.

However, it was admitted at the consulate tonight that the Cuban president had postponed his trip indefinitely, in spite of cables from Havana telling that the president's health is much improved.

LUTHERAN SYNOD PRESIDENT QUILTS

Mobile, Ala., February 23.—(AP)—Rev. G. L. Wagner, of New Orleans, president of the southern district of the Lutheran synod, of Missouri, Ohio and other states, at the thirty-first annual convention today after delivering the feature address turned in his resignation. He had served 36 years continuously. Rev. Wagner reviewed the progress of the district since its organization in New Orleans on February 8, 1892. The growth of the district and Lutheran church in Texas, part of the southern district at that time, was shown to be as follows by the retiring president's report.

In 1892 there were 38 pastors, 13 voting congregations and 75 nonvoting congregations. In 1925 there were 125 pastors, 84 voting congregations and 75 nonvoting. Dr. Wagner urged greater missionary activity on the part of the churches and pastors.
